

ALLIES CAPTURE GALLIPOLI CITY

Last Reports Claim Allies Now Hold Whip Hand on the Gallipoli Peninsula and Have Cut Turk Supply Line.

GERMAN FLEET REPORTED HAVING BOMBARDED BELGIAN COAST TOWN

Belgians Kill 4,000 Germans in Repulsing Attack—British Commandeer Space on Steamers From South America—Germans Launch General Offensive on Prussian Border—Appeal Made to Pope to Abandon Present Attitude—Turks Claim Repulse of Allies.

By Associated Press. London, April 30.—An official statement from Paris says that German warships have appeared off the Belgian coast, and have bombarded Dunkirk. Twenty persons were killed.

The presence of the German high seas fleet in the North Sea has been reported several times recently, and an official statement issued in Berlin a few days ago spoke of several expeditions of this kind, which were made without encountering the British fleet.

The captain of a Swedish steamer reported he had encountered a large number of German warships several days ago in the North Sea.

Marked progress apparently has been made by the allies in their efforts to win the Dardanelles by land operations.

Reports indicate that the British have succeeded in establishing two lines across the Gallipoli peninsula, one on the European side of the Dardanelles, near the tip, the second on the other side, near the entrance to the Sea of Marmora.

Significant in this connection is an official report from Berlin, which tends to confirm the report of last night that the British had pushed their way across the peninsula to the Sea of Marmora.

Such a line, if held, would cut off the Turkish defenders of the peninsula from assistance in the way of supplies and reinforcements from Constantinople.

An official statement from the Belgian government says that a German attack from Steenstraete was repulsed. It is said four thousand Germans were almost annihilated by the Belgian artillery.

Rome, April 30.—Belgian and French cardinals, archbishops and bishops have united in an appeal to Pope Benedict for the Vatican to abandon the attitude of neutrality it has maintained since the beginning of the war.

They say they cannot understand how the head of a church which is founded on principles of right and justice can remain neutral, without protesting, at the same time, against those who violate written or unwritten laws.

The point is urged to assume an attitude which would be epoch making in the history of the papacy.

Paris, April 30.—A dispatch from Athens to the Havas Agency says that the city of Gallipoli, on the European side of the Dardanelles near the entrance to the Sea of Marmora, has been captured by the allies.

and gave chase to the submarine, but it escaped.

The British steamer reported sunk last night by a German submarine was today identified as the Mobile, carrying a cargo of coal.

The Admiralty announced today that the German steamer Macedonia, which escaped from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, a few weeks ago, has been captured by a British cruiser.

London, April 30.—A German fleet was sighted today in the North Sea off the coast of Belgium.

The German official report says, in this connection, that the fortress of Dunkirk was shelled yesterday by German artillery.

Zeebrugge, in Belgium, a base of the German submarine service is reported in a message from Amsterdam to have been bombarded heavily.

A British official statement given out this evening says it is not true that German warships have bombarded Dunkirk.

37 HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

By Associated Press. Higbee, Mo., April 30.—Thirty-seven persons were injured, two seriously, it was learned today, in the wreck of a Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train, near here last night.

DEATH RIDES ON WINDSTORM

By Associated Press. San Francisco, April 30.—Two persons were known to be dead today, and other lives may be lost, as a result of the violent wind storm last night, which, at its height, reached a velocity of nearly 100 miles an hour.

Record breaking cold weather and high wind in a half a dozen far western states abated somewhat today after causing widespread damage. This may be increased in fruit districts by frost tonight.

Scores of small vessels were driven ashore along the California coasts. In San Francisco two boys were killed by a live wire.

Orchards in California and Oregon suffered, and from Idaho came reports of thousands of lambs frozen to death.

In eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana the temperature fell 25 degrees in 12 hours.

BRYAN AND JAP HOLD CONFERENCE

By Associated Press. Washington, April 30.—Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, had another long conference today with Secretary Bryan, presumably on the Japanese-Chinese negotiations being conducted in Peking, but officials remained silent after their meeting.

While no inkling has been given of the course to be followed by the United States with respect to new demands, those familiar with the previous course of American policy believe some further modification may be urged before the demands can be construed as not affecting the administrative independence of China.

SLIGHT DAMAGE DONE BY BOMBS

By Associated Press. London, April 30.—Advices from the Suffolk towns raided by German aircraft last night show that slight damage was done.

MRS. WM. G. McADOO

She Expects Interesting Event at the White House.

Secretary and Mrs. William G. McAdoo expect to present another grandchild to President Wilson within the next month. Mrs. McAdoo was Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, the president's second daughter. Mr. Wilson became a grandfather for the first time when Francis Sayre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowser Sayre, arrived at the White House in February.

MASSACRE RENEWED

Julfa, Trans-Caucasia, April 30.—A renewal of the recent massacre of Christians in Armenia is now in progress in the whole district of Lake Van.

Conflicts between the Armenians and the Kurds are daily becoming more obdurate. An exceptionally fierce engagement is occurring today at Shatasch.

$50,000 FIRE VISITS CANTON

Canton, April 30.—Fire, starting in the top story of the Courtland Hotel here early today, caused damage estimated at $50,000 and drove 130 guests from their rooms in scanty attire.

The entire fire department responded to alarm. Two firemen were overcome by smoke, but were revived. Several had narrow escapes when the roof fell in.

NO SETTLEMENT OF COAL STRIKE

Cleveland, April 30.—Although continual progress is being made, a settlement of the eastern Ohio coal strike is not anticipated for today, by members of the joint scale committee of miners and operators in meeting here.

William Green, secretary of the state miners, said he believed he could see a settlement ahead, and C. E. Maurer, for the operators, declared he was optimistic over the outlook.

U. S. TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

Washington, April 30.—President Wilson today directed Attorney General Gregory to make an investigation, so that the government may be informed of the complaint filed yesterday in Milwaukee, to determine whether the Alice Chalmers Company has entered a conspiracy with the Bethlehem Steel Company, or others, to ship shrapnel shells to Europe.

GERMAN AIRMEN ATTACK U.S. BOAT

By Associated Press.

London, April 30.—The Reuters Telegram Company has received a dispatch from its correspondent at Rotterdam, saying that the American steamer Cushing, from Philadelphia, arrived at Rotterdam today, and reports having been attacked by German airmen in the North Sea last Wednesday. The airmen dropped two bombs, but no damage was done. The Cushing was flying the American flag at the time of this attack, and her name was displayed on her sides in huge letters.

The Cushing left Philadelphia April 11 for Rotterdam. The vessel is owned by the Standard Oil Company and was formerly a German steamship, but was changed to American registry last November.

The Cushing's cargo consists of two million and a half gallons of refined petroleum.

TEDDY HAS HIS INNING IN BIG DAMAGE CASE

Witness Testifies That Plaintiff Opposed Direct Primaries in Order to Shield Bad Candidates—Rif-raff Was to Be Used in Election to Turn Public Sentiment.

By Associated Press.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 30.—That William Barnes, in giving his reasons for opposing direct primaries legislation, had said that he believed such elections would give too much publicity to candidates for office, as they would be forced to go through two campaigns, was the sworn testimony given in the Supreme Court here today by L. W. France, chairman of a committee of the Young Republican Club, of Brooklyn.

Mr. France said under oath that Mr. Barnes had told him that the reputation of any man could be ruined by turning the limelight upon him, and that he could vote the rif-raff of the Democrats in Albany in the Republican primaries, and so disgust the people that they would demand a repeal of the bill.

Counsel for the colonel unsuccessfully endeavored, during the day, to get from H. H. Vreeland, former president of the Metropolitan Securities Company, the holding company for the New York Street Railways Company, testimony that he had contributed to both the Democratic and the Republican organizations in 1903, when Mr. Barnes was chairman of the executive committee of the Republican State Committee.

Wm. M. Ivins, chief counsel for William Barnes, today denied that he had telegraphed Governor Whitman last night and requested him to appear as a witness later in the trial of the suit. An aide to Mr. Ivins had previously declared, however, that an answer had been expected from the governor before midnight, but that none had been received.

AMERICANS WORK HARD ALONG FRONT

By Associated Press.

London, April 30.—No ambulance corps at the front is attracting more attention than the American Volunteer Motor Ambulance Corps under the leadership of Richard Norton. Recently, the British Red Cross, with which the Corps is affiliated, ordered it to return for service with the British forces from the Second French army with which it had been operating since it reached French soil. But in the meantime the whole ambulance organization of the Second French Army had been based on the American corps and the French Medical department objected strongly to giving it up. The result has been a compromise whereby the Corps will be enlarged to work with both armies.

The corps consists entirely of volunteer workers, who not only give their own services but provide automobiles as well. Both have distinctly made good, the French authorities having paid the warmest tributes to the efficiency of the workers and their cars. The squadron of motor cars represents many types with American cars proving the favorites as their clearance gives them a distinct advantage in traversing the rough battle fields and wrecked roads. Among these cars the small American types have rendered extremely useful service by providing what might be termed the light cavalry of the ambulance service. While not being able to carry a heavy load these small cars bring the wounded from fields where the big ambulances cannot venture.

C. H. & D. SHOPS RUN FULL TIME

Lima, Ohio, April 29.—For the first time in two years the shops of the C. H. & D. Railroad here, employing 400 men, will work a full month. On previous occasions the appropriations ran out long before the month was over and the shops were closed until the beginning of the following month.

The machine shops are using their full quota of men and are working full time to keep up with the work. It was said today by local officials that the shops would be likely to run on full time for several months to come, as much equipment needed repair. The enormous increase in business of the road the past two weeks has caused the activity, the coal traffic to the lakes being heavier than at any time in the history of the road.

MILLIONS FOR BETTERMENTS

Baltimore, Md., April 28.—The expected financing to be done by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company came today with the announcement that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. have purchased $40,000,000 4 1/2 per cent secured gold notes. These notes are equally divided as follows: $20,000,000 maturing June 1, 1917, two year maturities are offered at 99 1/2 and the three-year maturities at 99.

This offering will more than take care of the $35,000,000 one-year notes, which fall due June 1 next, and leaves $5,000,000 for further betterment or other forms of financing.

TALENTED GIRL TO GIVE RECITAL

No little local interest attaches to a recital, to be given by Miss Mary Hazel Post, reader, impersonator and monologist, of Ohio University, at Wayne Hall, Good Hope, Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Sugar Grove church.

This will be Miss Post's first appearance in public since leaving the local High school, where her ability first attained recognition. She will present a delightfully varied repertoire, the amusing and humorous in the lead, and rich entertainment is promised in her program.

Musical talent will assist a vocal quartet, Mrs. Silcott, Mrs. Cockerill, Messrs. Silcott and Hardway, with Mrs. Everhart accompanist. Miss Bernice Boggs, piano soloist and a song by Margaret Alice Porter.

SENIOR GIRLS ENTERTAIN TEACHERS

The Senior girls of the Domestic Science department, under the direction of the domestic science teacher, Miss Maude Chester, served luncheon to half of the High school teachers and evening dinner to the remainder.

It was a practical lesson in serving for the girls and a genuine treat to the guests. Both luncheon and dinner were served with exquisite daintiness, a color scheme of green and white at the former and violet and white at the latter.

Four courses of deliciously cooked viands were served and the place cards were extremely pretty little hand painted affairs.

HISTORIC AQUEDUCT DESTROYED BY FIRE

The historic old aqueduct across the Scioto river at Circleville was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, and it is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin, as numerous attempts had been made to burn the old structure.

The structure was completed in 1831, at a cost of $40,000. It was of wood construction and was in a splendid state of preservation.

POSTMASTER OF HILLSBORO DEAD

Hillsboro, April 28.—A. E. Hough, postmaster of Hillsboro, died suddenly this afternoon from a hemorrhage of the throat. He was appointed postmaster in July, 1914. For more than 30 years he was editor and proprietor of the Hillsboro Gazette and had been active in Democratic politics. In 1908 he was one of the Democratic nominees for presidential electors.

A STORY THAT VARIES.

The Bride Who Got into a Chest and Was Found Dead There.

There is a story more or less diffused of a young bride on her wedding day playing the game of hide and seek and concealing herself in one of those ancient carved chests of large size. After she had got in the lid closed, and she found herself unable to raise it again, for it fastened with a spring, and she was shut in. Search was made for her in every quarter but the right one, and great perplexity and dismay were caused by her disappearance. It was not till years after, when chance led to the opening of the chest, that the body of the young bride was discovered and the mystery of her disappearance solved.

The story is found in so many places that it may be questioned whether it is true of any one of them. Rogers tells it of a palace in Modena. The chest in which the poor bride was found is shown at Bramshill, in Hampshire, the residence of Sir John Cope. Another similar chest, with precisely the same story attached to it, was long shown at Maxwell Old Hall, between Winchester and Bishop's Waltham.

The folk tale of Catskin or Peau d'Ane represents the girl flying with her bridal dresses from a marriage that is repugnant to her, and as this tale is found all over Europe it may have metamorphosed itself into that of the bride who got into a chest and died there.—Cornhill Magazine.

BLUNDERING REPORTERS.

Mistakes That Mangled the Speakers' Words and Feelings.

"Drunkness is folly!" earnestly exclaimed Bishop Magee in the house of lords on a celebrated occasion. How horrified was the prelate to read in the papers next morning that he had given utterance to the very bacchanalian sentiment, "Drunkness is folly!" Lord Salisbury was a master phrase-maker, but one of his best points was spoiled when a careless reporter turned his reference to "manacles and Manito" into the meaningless "manacles and men at the bar."

Sir William Harcourt was badly misquoted once. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!" he exclaimed upon the platform, but one paper had it: "Great Diana! What a farce is this!"

Lack of knowledge of familiar quotations is a prolific source of misreporting. For instance, a speaker once made use of the well known lines from Milton's "L'Allegro":

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven ye kept Euphrosyne.

The brilliant reporter deputed to "take him down" was in despair. He could not make head or tail of this mysterious utterance. But, following the sound as far as possible, he seized his pen and produced the following gem:

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven she crept and froze her knees.

The speaker was taken down in more senses than one.—London Answers.

Golf in the Old Days.

Centuries back golf was a pastime of the royal family, though then usually played in Scotland. The Stuart family was very fond of the game, and the first English club was established at Blackheath in 1608 by James I. His eldest son, Henry, frequently played and on one occasion nearly struck by accident his tutor with a club, whereupon he coolly remarked: "Had I done so I had but paid my debts." Charles I. was playing golf when he received the news of the Irish rebellion. James, duke of York, afterward James II., was another ardent player. Golf is frequently mentioned in ancient Scottish records and in the fifteenth century was prohibited because it interfered with the practice of archery. Strutt considered it the most ancient game at ball requiring a bat.—London Standard.

Puss and the Weather.

The cat is an excellent barometer. When you see a cat wetting its paw in its mouth and then rubbing it energetically over the upper part of its ear you may feel pretty certain that rain is coming. This action is puss's method of relieving the uncomfortable feeling in its ears caused by the change in the atmospheric pressure which precedes a storm. If the unpleasant feeling in the ear were due to a foreign substance then the cat would scratch the ear with its hind foot. But when puss scrubs its ear with its saliva moistened paw it is when rain is impending.

Do not think that years leave us and find us the same.—Meredith.

Care of the Ear.

Never be alarmed if a living insect enters the ears. Pouring warm water into the canal will drown it, when it will generally come to the surface and can easily be removed by the fingers. A few puffs of tobacco smoke blown into the ear will stupefy the insect. Never meddle with the ear if a foreign body, such as a bead, button or seed enters it. Leave it absolutely alone, but have a physician attend to it. More damage has been done by injudicious attempts at the extraction of a foreign body than could ever come from its presence in the ear.—Health.

Attacked in Front and Rear

A youngster of our acquaintance who has a faculty for getting into scrapes recently expressed the wish that he was a postage stamp. When asked why, he answered, "Because a postage stamp can only be licked once," whereupon we pointed out that the stamp received, besides the licking, a severe punch in the face.—Boston Transcript.

Contrary Efforts.

"The man who forged the indorsement of his friend went to the bank to cash the check."
"Well?"
"The friend went immediately after him to check the cash."—Baltimore American.

A Great Principle.

"Forgive your enemies," said the earnest man. "That's good religion."
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum, "and sometimes it's good politics too."—Washington Star

Washington, April 30.—Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, had another long conference today, with Secretary Bryan, presumably on the Japanese-Chinese negotiations being conducted in Peking, but officials remained silent after their meeting.

While no inkling has been given of the course to be followed by the United States with respect to new demands, those familiar with the look previous course of American policy believe some further modification may be urged before the demands can be construed as not affecting the administrative independence of China.

MASSACRE RENEWED

Julfa, Trans-Caucasia, April 30.—A renewal of the recent massacre of Christians in Armenia is now in progress in the whole district of Lake Van.

Conflicts between the Armenians and the Kurds are daily becoming more obdurate. An exceptionally fierce engagement is occurring today at Shatasch.

$50,000 FIRE VISITS CANTON

Canton, April 30.—Fire, starting in the top story of the Courtland Hotel here early today, caused damage estimated at $50,000 and drove 120 guests from their rooms in scanty attire.

The entire fire department responded to alarm. Two firemen were overcome by smoke, but were revived. Several had narrow escapes when the roof fell in.

NO SETTLEMENT OF COAL STRIKE

Cleveland, April 30.—Although continual progress is being made, a settlement of the eastern Ohio coal strike is not anticipated for today, by members of the joint scale committee of miners and operators in meeting here.

William Green, secretary of the state miners, said he believed he could see a settlement ahead, and C. E. Maurer, for the operators, declared he was optimistic over the outlook.

U. S. TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

Washington, April 30.—President Wilson today directed Attorney General Gregory to make an investigation, so that the government may be informed of the complaint filed yesterday in Milwaukee, to determine whether the Alice Chalmers Company has entered a conspiracy with the Bethlehem Steel Company, or others, to ship shrapnel shells to Europe.

GERMAN AIRMEN ATTACK U.S. BOAT

By Associated Press.

London, April 30.—The Reuters Telegram Company has received a dispatch from its correspondent at Rotterdam, saying that the American steamer Cushing, from Philadelphia, arrived at Rotterdam today, and reports having been attacked by German airmen in the North Sea last Wednesday. The airmen dropped two bombs, but no damage was done. The Cushing was flying the American flag at the time of this attack, and her name was displayed on her sides in huge letters.

The Cushing left Philadelphia April 11 for Rotterdam. The vessel is owned by the Standard Oil Company and was formerly a German steamship, but was changed to American registry last November. The Cushing's cargo consists of two million and a half gallons of refined petroleum.

TEDDY HAS HIS INNING IN BIG DAMAGE CASE

Witness Testifies That Plaintiff Opposed Direct Primaries in Order to Shield Bad Candidates—Rif-raff Was to Be Used in Election to Turn Public Sentiment.

By Associated Press.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 30.—That William Barnes, in giving his reasons for opposing direct primaries legislation, had said that he believed such elections would give too much publicity to candidates for office, as they would be forced to go through two campaigns, was the sworn testimony given in the Supreme Court here today by L. W. France, chairman of a committee of the Young Republican Club, of Brooklyn.

Mr. France said under oath that Mr. Barnes had told him that the reputation of any man could be ruined by turning the limelight upon him, and that he could vote the riff-raff of the Democrats in Albany in the Republican primaries, and so disgust the people that they would demand a repeal of the bill.

AMERICANS WORK HARD ALONG FRONT

By Associated Press.

London, April 30.—No ambulance corps at the front is attracting more attention than the American Volunteer Motor Ambulance Corps under the leadership of Richard Norton. Recently, the British Red Cross, with which the Corps is affiliated, ordered it to return for service with the British forces from the Second French army with which it had been operating since it reached French soil. But in the meantime the whole ambulance organization of the Second French Army had been based on the American corps and the French Medical department objected strongly to giving it up. The result has been a compromise whereby the Corps will be enlarged to work with both armies.

The corps consists entirely of volunteer workers, who not only give their own services but provide automobiles as well. Both have distinctly made good, the French authorities having paid the warmest tributes to the efficiency of the workers and their cars. The squadron of motor cars represents many types with American cars proving the favorites as their clearance gives them a distinct advantage in traversing the rough battle fields and wrecked roads. Among these cars the small American types have rendered extremely useful service by providing what might be termed the light cavalry of the ambulance service. While not being able to carry a heavy load these small cars bring the wounded from fields where the big ambulances cannot venture.

BRITISH ARMY "HOTEL" NEAR TRENCHES

CONFIDENT THE DECENTRALIZER WILL GO THROUGH

Columbus, April 30.—As a result of a series of conferences, Governor Willis is said to have succeeded in bringing about practical agreement between the administration and representatives of the Cincinnati Republican organization for support of a bill to decentralize the saloon licensing system. There still is disagreement on details, but agreement on major provisions presages the ultimate passage of a license bill which will conform to the minimum requirements insisted upon by the governor—removal of licensing authority from the state and retention in the state of authority to enforce laws regulating the traffic.

With the Andrews bill on the house table, the scene of action will be shifted to the senate, where, on Tuesday, Senator McDermott of Trumbull will introduce the new bill. Like the original McDermott measure, it will divide the state into thirty-three licensing districts, Cuyahoga and Hamilton counties to be separate districts, and each of the remaining districts to be composed of two or three counties.

In each of these districts, three of the elective county officers will compose an appointing board to name for each county two license commissioners of opposite politics.

The Cincinnatians favor intrusting law enforcement to a state board of three, the state auditor, treasurer and an excise commissioner to be appointed by the governor. The latter insists that law enforcement must be under the control of the head of the state government, whereas a majority of the proposed board would not be responsible to him. Accordingly the bill is expected to place the duty of seeing that Sunday closing and other regulations are complied with in the hands of a single excise commissioner, appointed by the governor. But an appeal may be provided from the excise commissioner to an appointive, unsalaried state board of two members, to review revocations of licenses.

Affects 1 Per Cent Act.

The Republicans voted with senate Democrats to make a small puncture in the Smith 1 per cent law by passing the Fellingner bill, designed to aid municipalities in complying with orders of the state board of health in the construction of water purification and sewage disposal plants. The measure allows the city to issue bonds for the construction of such plants, the interest and sinking fund charges of which may go beyond the 15 mill limit of the Smith act.

The senate passed the Thatcher house bill, exempting farmers who manufacture agriculture lime and sell it to their neighbors from the required payment of the $30 license fee to the agricultural commission.

Senator Wickline introduced a bill providing for the appointment by the governor of a permanent state building commission, with authority to erect a state office building if it is found to be necessary.

The Horn bill, authorizing the construction and operation of municipally owned gas and electric light plants in places where private plants are already in operation, was defeated in the senate by a vote of 9 to 17. Senate Howard, Republican floor leader, led the fight against the bill.

Incident to adjourning until 11 a. m. Tuesday to permit the finance committee without interruption to finish the long budget for introduction that day, Majority Leader Whittemore announced in the house that effort would be made to complete the session by the end of next week and to recess until the middle of the following week, when adjournment sine die would be taken.

The house passed the Fox bill to furnish by transfer from the general revenue fund $1,164,600 to enable the highway department to make contracts in nine counties. The money is appropriated in anticipation of the June collection of the road tax.

The house for the third time postponed consideration of the motion to revive the Gallagher bill, this time until next Wednesday.

Friends of labor won a victory when the Archer senate bill was sent by the house to an unfriendly committee, where it is likely to die.

OHIO BRIEFS

Price to Quit O. S. U.

Columbus, April 30.—Dean Homer C. Price of the college of agriculture, Ohio State university, recently removed by the board of trustees, will not remain at the university in another capacity. President Thompson tendered him the professorship of rural economics at the maximum salary, but Dean Price declined. In a letter to President Thompson, Price in representing the action of the board points to the progress of the college under his administration.

Ellison For Mayor.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Captain J. F. Ellison, former president of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce, announced his candidacy for the nomination for mayor of Cincinnati on the Republican ticket. Captain Ellison is interested in river transportation.

Four Men Caught.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Without warning a section of the foundation of a laundry building, in course of demolition, collapsed. Four men were caught. Henry Willen, foreman of the crew, was probably fatally injured.

Scent Strike Settlement.

Cleveland, April 30.—Prospects of a settlement of the strike in the eastern Ohio coal fields appear bright. The question of strike arbitration was ratified by the conference.

Village Blaze.

Ashtabula, O., April 30.—Fire destroyed the Yale-Redmond two-story business block in Jefferson, causing a loss of $7,000 and putting four merchants out of business.

TWO GIRLS ARE FATALLY BURNED

Cardington, O., April 30.—Wilma Breniser, eight, was burned to death, and her sister Marie, thirteen, was probably fatally injured in a fire which destroyed the home of W. C. Breniser, three miles southwest of this place. The two girls poured coal oil on live coals in the cook stove in an effort to start fire to prepare supper and were enveloped in the flames, that leaped to the ceiling. The younger girl lived three hours after being rescued, while the other, her body horribly burned and her eyes seared, is not expected to live. In addition to the house, which was destroyed, six other farm buildings were burned, causing a total loss of $3,500.

DROP BOMBS ON ENGLISH COAST TOWNS

London, April 30.—Another German air raid on the east coast of England occurred early today. Several bombs were dropped on the town of Ipswich, in Suffolk, sixty-six miles northeast of London. Three houses were set on fire, but so far as is known nobody was seriously injured. At last reports the air craft was steering in the direction of Stowmarket, a small town about twelve miles northwest of Ipswich. It is not stated whether the craft was a Zeppelin or an aeroplane.

Bombs were also dropped on Whitten, but so far as known no one was injured. This is the second raid on England in a little over two weeks. The last was a visit of a Zeppelin on April 13 to Newcastle-on-Tyne, where several bombs were dropped. Several nearby towns in Northumberland were bombarded at the same time, but no great damage was caused. Newcastle is a great naval station and manufacturing center. Ipswich is neither. It is a town of about 70,000 people, at the mouth of the river Glipping. Stowmarket is a small town of about 4,500 people near Bury St. Edmunds.

At the time of the recent raids on towns near London it was stated in German newspapers that the flights were merely reconnaissances to preparing ground for a great Zeppelin raid on London and the principal cities of southeastern England. It was reported that Count Zeppelin himself was on the Belgian coast to organize the concerted raid.

French aviators have succeeded in reaching the Zeppelin dirigible works at Friedrichshafen. Dispatches from both Geneva and Berlin admit that, but the details differ. It is reported in a wireless dispatch from Berlin that a French aviator dropped six bombs on the plant, two of which did some damage. It was thought the aeroplane was hit. Geneva announces, on the other hand, that the French airmen have made two attacks on the works within thirty-six hours, destroying five airships, setting fire to several buildings and doing at least $1,000,000 worth of damage. On their return the aeroplanes circled over Metz, dropping bombs and arrows.

ENGLISH LIQUOR BILL LAUNCHED

London, April 30.—The bill designed to restrict the sale and use of intoxicants was introduced in the house of commons by David Lloyd-George. The chancellor declared that excessive drinking among the employees of the navy yards and those engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war was seriously affecting the output. Lloyd-George proposes to double the duty on spirits, quadruple the duties on wines and to institute an increase by graduated tax on beer—to encourage the use of lighter beers.

BITE OF BABE PROVES FATAL

Pittsfield, Mass., April 30.—Miss Martha Kleiner, twenty-two, died here home in Adams from blood poisoning, which resulted from the bite of a baby whom she was attending. Three weeks ago Miss Kleiner came here to visit relatives and, fond of children, she attended the baby in the household. While changing the infant's clothing she leaned down over the baby's face and was bitten deeply on the nose by the baby, whose small sharp teeth dug into the flesh. Blood poisoning soon developed and could not be arrested.

MASSING TROOPS ON FRONTIER

Rome, April 30.—It is evident that Austria regards the entry of Italy into the war as imminent. Large Austrian forces are now being rushed to the Italian frontier. The railroads leading into the "Tyrolean salient" as well as to the Venetian border are used exclusively for the transport of troops and munitions. Ordinary traffic on these lines has been suspended for three days. Troops are also being sent in great numbers to Dalmatia. Troop ships, conveyed by warships, are leaving Pola, the Austrian naval base, for Cattaro, which has been besieged since the beginning of the war by Montenegrins, with the aid of the allied fleet. Mine sowing has been extended by the Austrians all along the east coast of the Adriatic.

A dispatch from Taranto reports the concentration there of hundreds of steamers for the transport of Italian troops, probably to the Dardanelles. It is impossible to obtain confirmation of this report here.

Further reports of disturbances in the Trentino are coming to hand. From the village of Arco 250 half-starved women marched to Riva at the head of Lake Garda and close to the Italian frontier, demanding bread and shouting "Down with the war!" The women were charged by gendarmes and many of them were bayoneted. Two women and a child were trampled to death. Austrian troops were rushed to Arco and 500 soldiers, wounded in the rioting there in the last few days, were sent to Innsbruck, as the hospital in Arco is used as a barracks. Bread riots are frequent in the entire Trentino, and they have invariably been repressed with bloodshed.

Men who have closely followed the war situation as far as it affects this country assert that as a result of the interchange of views between Italy and the allies the following points have been agreed upon: First, Italy will delay her entrance into the war until a concerted move can be made by all the enemies of Germany and Austria. This blow will be delivered

Progress On Public Work

Favored with ideal weather conditions the contractors on the public work of the city and county have been making remarkable progress.

The work is being pushed everywhere to the limit of capacity of men and equipment—no time has been wasted and the results attained are a pleasant surprise.

Local officials charged with the duty of overseeing the work—guarding the interests of the public—and insisting that the work be done according to specifications have been on the job almost constantly and with heavy improvements in sections of considerable distance removed from each other the work of overseeing the several improvements has been a task of some magnitude requiring the exercise of good judgment as well as no little amount of physical energy.

So far no serious clashes between officials and contractors have been reported, which would indicate that the contractors are striving to do the work properly.

Washington has undertaken a great deal of street improvement work and if the results of the work now under way prove satisfactory it is only a small percentage of that which will follow in the near future. Contractors have therefore the double incentive to do their work well—first the honor of it and second the prestige it will bring to them.

Perhaps it is for both reasons that the work is being well done, apparently. But the people are not so particular about the reason why, as they are about the work.

That seems to be satisfactory and if time reinforces present opinion there is credit enough for all interested to have their full share.

The Canadian Troops

The Canadian troops were called upon to play an important role in the great drama of the European war sooner really than the folks at home expected it.

The troops of the Dominion, fate placed in one of the positions along the great battle line of the Ypres, toward which the heaviest onslaught of the attacking German hosts was directed and their valor and intelligent fighting called forth expressions of admiration and unstinted praise from the veteran troops and commanders at other parts of the line and in reserve.

While the brave Canadians were not successful in turning back the avalanche of Germans they did as much as any body of troops could have done—held the Germans in check long enough to enable the main body of the reserves to form and check the advance shortly after the Canadian troops were forced to fall back.

Their baptism of fire was severe and the losses suffered staggering but they stood their ground bravely and fought like seasoned troops.

King George and his government have reason to be proud of the fighting men which the great colony in North America sent to aid the allies in response to the call for volunteers.

Many of the brave lads who marched away to war in foreign fields to aid the mother country in her struggle, now lie in unmarked graves on the greatest battlefield the world has ever seen.

Many Canadian homes are desolated—many hearts in the great land to the north of us are grief stricken because of the thousands who fell on the field of battle, but Canada has reason to feel proud of the record her troops have made and all the glory which war can bring the soldiers of the Dominion secured for their native land. They answered the call and paid nobly the awful toll of war. A nation can ask no more of her soldiers than was given by the Canadians on the battlefield of Ypres.

Conquest of Alcohol a Blessing the European War Will Bring

By HUDSON MAXIM, Noted Scientist and Inventor

FOUR of the greatest nations of the world, four of the greatest peoples of the world—Anglo-Saxon, Teuton, Latin, Slav—are now engaged in a life and death grapple for supremacy. It is not a conflict of unrefined, uncultured, unenlightened barbarism with ignorance and barbarism, but it is a warfare of science, education, enlightenment.

IT IS A WAR OF CIVILIZATION—OF RACE CULTURE AND RACE IDEALS AGAINST RACE CULTURE AND RACE IDEALS, AND ALL THOSE PEOPLE ARE, IN THE MAIN, BOTH GREAT AND GOOD, NOT SAVAGE, IGNORANT OR BARBAROUS.

With all its blight, its devastation, its misery, all its loss of life, this war will have its advantages and its blessings, not the least of which will be the conquest of alcohol. Russia has already conquered vodka, France absinth—bigger enemies than Germany and Austria—and England is aiming a deathblow at John Barleycorn, and if she deals him a knock-out she will conquer her worst enemy—AN ENEMY THAT HAS CAUSED MORE POVERTY, MISERY AND MURDER WITHIN HER CONFINES—YEA, TENFOLD MORE—THAN HAVE BEEN PRODUCED BY ALL HER WARS.

Poetry For Today

INVOCATION.

O Thou whose equal purpose runs
In drops of rain or streams of suns,
And with a soft compulsion rolls
The green earth of her snowy poles;
O Thou who keepest in thy ken
The times of flowers, the dooms of men.

Stretch out a mighty wing above—
Be tender to the land we love!

If all the huddlers from the storm
Have found her hearthstone wide
and warm;

If she has made men free and glad,
Sharing, with all, the good she had;
If she has blown the very dust
From her bright balance to be just,
Oh, spread a mighty wing above—
Be tender to the land we love!

When is the dark eternal tower
The star-clock strikes her trial hour,
And for her help no more avail
Her sea-blue shield, her mountain-mail,

But sweeping wide, from gulf to lakes,
The battle on her forehead breaks,
Throw Thou a thunderous wing above—

Be lightning for the land we love!

Luke McLuke Says

The woman who paints her face and wears clothes that make her look like an advertisement shouldn't complain because she attracts attention.

US roughnecks may be dumb. But we still insist that a man who wears two watch crystals with tortoise shell rims isn't any better than we are.

A good working dictionary has a vocabulary of about 80,000 terms. And some men can use the whole 80,000, and not say anything.

The man who is trying to support a wife and a few children on $10 a week knows that all the peons are not located in Mexico.

Another sure thing is that a woman is always older than she thinks she looks.

The man who imagines that his nickel's worth of religion pays up his fire insurance from Sunday to Sunday feels sorry for the rest of the world.

This would be a fine world if we were as eager to take advantage of our opportunities to keep quiet as we are to take advantage of our opportunities to talk.

When there are two or three grown children in the family the only place on the hall rack where father can find room for his hat and coat is the nail on the back of the cellar door.

You can make a woman believe that white is black. But you can't make her believe that clothes can be comfortable and stylish at the same time.

Why is it that almost every man believes that almost everybody else is happier than he is?

If the kisses men give women were as passionate as the kisses women give other women there wouldn't be much trouble in the world.

One thing we like about a woman who does her own housework is that she hardly ever has time to lavish affection on a lap dog.

A modern princess does more primping to go to a grocery store for a bar of soap than an old fashioned girl did when she was going to a dance.

There are about 987,000,000 ways to get yourself in bad, but the easiest way is to go to a woman and knock her husband behind his back.

The old fashioned girl who used to make baby clothes now has a daughter who is making a name for herself.

Thinking about selling your house?

To get the greatest cash value for your property you should make sure that it looks in first-class condition. Repainting makes a world of difference in an old house.

A clean, fresh-looking house sells quicker and commands a higher price than the dingy place. The cost of the paint has been known to come back ten to one because of the greater desirability to the purchaser.

If thinking of selling, think also of painting and use "High Standard," the paint made to give best results.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Inflammatory Rheumatism.

The treatment of inflammatory rheumatism is absolute rest in bed. The bed should be comfortable, and the patient should remain in it for at least two weeks after the fever has become normal and all symptoms of swelling and inflammation have subsided. The rest is essential to prevent complications, the commonest of which is endocarditis inflammation of the lining membrane of the heart. While in bed the patient should wear a loose flannel nightdress and lie between blankets. The joints must be kept at complete rest. They should be wrapped in cotton wool and kept in padded splints, made secure with a roller bandage. All through the course of the illness the sufferer may drink water and lemonade freely. Milk and cereals are most suitable foods to use. Medical treatment is of the greatest importance. Every direction given by the attending physician should be faithfully carried out to prevent complications. If the heart should become affected, prolonged rest in bed will be the most important part of the treatment.

SUBLIME SIMPLICITY.

The Epitaph Over Sir Henry Lawrence, the Lucknow Hero.

There is a simple tomb in Lucknow, in India, that cost no more than many a plain farmer's gravestone in our rural burying places, but Clarence Poe declares that it impressed him more than anything else he saw in India except the Himalayas, the Taj Mahal and the view of Benares from the river.

It is the tomb of the heroic Sir Henry Lawrence, who died so glorious a death in the great mutiny of 1857. No commander in all India had planned more wisely for the defense of the men and women under his care, but the siege had only begun when he was mortally wounded. He called his successor and his associates to him, and at last, having omitted no detail of counsel or information that might enable them to carry out his farseeing plans, he roused himself to dictate his own immortal epitaph:

Here Lies
Henry Lawrence,
Who Tried to Do His Duty,
May the Lord Have Mercy on His Soul.

And so today these lines, sublime in their simplicity, mark his last resting place, and you feel that not even the great Akbar in Secundra or Napoleon in Paris has a worthier monument.—Youth's Companion.

A Cautious Reply.

At West Point they tell a story of a man known as Ginger, on account of the peculiar color of his hair, who graduated at the foot of his class after six years at the Point.

Ginger distinguished himself while reciting to an instructor in ordnance by a remarkable answer to the question "How many pieces will a twelve pound shell burst into?" the average number having been determined well by experiment. After due reflection Ginger lifted his eyes to those of the instructor and replied:

"Not less than two."—New York Times.

HOWARD MURDER TRIAL IS RAPIDLY NEARING THE END

THE FINAL TESTIMONY WAS INTRODUCED THIS EVENING AND CASE IS EXPECTED TO GO TO JURY SOMETIME SATURDAY—DEFENSE CAUSES DEMONSTRATION AT SCENE OF MURDER TO REBUT CLAIM OF TWO WITNESSES THAT THEY SAW ACCUSED MAN WHEN LAST SHOT WAS FIRED.

At 3:40 this afternoon all evidence had been submitted in the Howard murder case, and court adjourned until Saturday morning, when special charge will be submitted and arguments made. Each side is limited to 2½ hours argument.

Interest in the trial of William Howard was increased Friday morning when John Myers, a prisoner of the Ohio Penitentiary, and other witnesses testified.

Myers was escorted to the city by a guard, testified and was returned to prison on the next train. The man was confined in the county jail at the time of the Byrd murder, and later was sentenced to state prison upon charges preferred by his daughter. He testified that Howard, when locked up on the night of the crime, gave indications of being badly intoxicated.

Testimony calculated to rebut that offered by Francis Madden and Della Thompson, who stated that they were in an adjoining flat at the time of the crime and saw a man whom they claim was William Howard, at the back door of the Howard home and saw the last shot fired, was introduced by the defense.

Wednesday night the attorneys for the defense, Gregg, Patton and Gregg accompanied by Bert Shimp, Tom Lindsay and Tom Hillery, went to the scene of the crime and there made a demonstration to ascertain if one standing where the Madden and Thompson girls were standing at the time they claim to have seen the last shot fired, could really see a gun carried by a person standing at the rear door of the Howard home.

The two colored girls testified that they heard the first shot and in looking out of the back door beheld a man standing back of the Howard door, and that the man, to their best belief, was William Howard, and that while they looked he fired into the Howard doorway, the weapon from which the flash and explosion came, being flung back over the man's shoulder after the shooting.

The two witnesses are the only ones who, so far, have claimed that they saw either shot fired, and who claim to have recognized the accused as he stood on the rear porch immediately after the death of Nannie Byrd is supposed to have occurred.

The men who aided the attorneys in making the demonstration were placed upon the stand Friday morning and their testimony was to the effect that the two girls, standing where they were, could not have seen a gun if the man they saw carried one and stood close up to the entrance to the Howard home.

The evidence carried in the testimony of the two girls remains very impressive.

good roadway leading through the English addition, past the Wonder stove factory, and into the main part of town by that route.

North street is torn up to Gibbs avenue, which is the second street leading east of North street, and the first street in the suburbs, leading east from North street, is Earl avenue, where vehicles turn on the route past the Wonder factory and into the main part of town.

The change of route makes only a few minutes difference in the time required to reach the main part of the city.

At no time during the improvement now under way will traffic be shut off from the north.

ALLEY CATCH-ALLS SADLY NEGLECTED

As a general rule, according to one who has been about the city a great deal during the past few weeks, the alleys are free from odoriferous manure piles and other fly-breeding places.

However there are a few fly-breeding spots left, and entire neighborhoods are alarmed by the odor arising from the accumulated filth. Such collections of refuse are held to be not only a fly breeding place but a menace to public health and a blight to the community in which they are located and neglect of proper attention on the part of the property owner who uses the alley for a dump is violation of a city ordinance.

Mrs. Tom Hillery has returned from a visit with her parents near Green-as vehicles of all kinds may find a field.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS AT COCKERILL STORE

The Cockerill grocery has just completed some radical improvements in keeping with the progressive policy of the store, and as a result more room is afforded and more sanitary methods of handling fruits, vegetables and other articles have been installed.

The old counters have been torn out along the sides of the big store and replaced with handsome new counters and show-cases which have been placed in the center of the store, in a double row. The new counters, cases and bins are of latest design and constructed with the idea of sanitation, yet displaying the goods to best advantage.

The only coffee roaster in the city has been installed by the Cockerill store as part of its modern equipment, and stands near the front entrance where anyone may see it in action. Mr. Ed Fite, manager of the store, will purchase the green coffee berry in large quantities and will offer fresh roasted coffee to Washington citizens at all times. The roaster will also be used for roasting peanuts. It is operated by electricity.

In addition to offering better opportunity for inspection of goods, the new changes at the store add much to the attractiveness of the place of business.

LETS CONTRACTS FOR NEW RESIDENCE

Within a few hours after fire had destroyed the residence occupied by E. C. Kelley, on the George Jackson farm in Paint township, Wednesday, Mr. Jackson had let contracts for the construction of a new and more modern home.

The debris of the former home and contents will be removed at once, and the new residence started next week and completed within the next few weeks.

Mr. Kelley, who lost nearly everything in the house, has received $360 insurance, although his loss far exceeds that amount.

BENEFIT MATINEE IS APPROVED

MEETING OF DUTCH TREAT CLUB OF Y. M. C. A. RESULTS IN ESTABLISHING OF JUNE 17 AS DATE FOR HOLDING MATINEE RACES UNDER AUSPICES OF Y. M. C. A. — CLUB DECIDES TO HOLD FUTURE DINNERS NOON THURSDAYS INSTEAD OF EVENINGS.

June 17 is the date set for a special afternoon matinee racing performance, to be put on by the Matinee Club, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. A favorable report as to holding the event, submitted by a joint committee of Matinee clubmen and Y. M. C. A. men, and the subsequent approval of the Y. M. C. A. directors, marked the regular Thursday evening dinner of the Dutch Treat Club, at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening.

The event will be handled in much the same manner as matinee cards are usually conducted, with perhaps a few extra attractions. Purses will be awarded the winners.

Speeches were made at the meeting by Dr. L. P. Howell, of the Matinee Club, and Mr. Wm. Worthington of the Y. M. C. A. Finance Committee chairman of the joint committee.

It was also decided at this meeting that the weekly dinners of the Dutch Treat aggregation be held at noon on Thursdays in the future, instead of in the evening as has been the custom.

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR MAY DAY FETE

Plans for the second annual May Day fete of Cherry Hill are going merrily on and it is expected that May the seventh will see practically all of Washington's school patrons and many others enroute to this beautifully located school.

The school is putting on a very ambitious play, a dramatization of "Pied Piper, of Hamelin," with a hundred and fifty pupils in the cast. It will be staged in the natural amphitheater and seats built up on the encircling hillside.

Rehearsals are progressing finely, in charge of Miss Pauline Pine and Mrs. Armetha Lieuelien.

Oldest Chess Problem.

The oldest chess problem on record is thought to be that contained in an ancient Persian manuscript attributed to Caliph Kalifen Mutashil Billah, who reigned in Bagdad A. D. 833 to 842. But the reader would have to learn the old rules before it was intelligible. For example, the queen could make a move of only one square at a time and that on a diagonal, but a queen promoted from a pawn was allowed to make a move of two squares diagonally. The bishop had no power over any square except the third from which it stood on its own diagonal line, but it was allowed to vault over any piece that happened to be between. In short, it was a totally different game. Chess in the precise form in which we know it and play it today is a comparatively modern game.—London Strand Magazine.

What He Wished to Know.

"Here's an article in this magazine entitled 'How to Meet Trouble,'" said Mrs. Wedderly. "Shall I read it to you?" "No, thank you," replied his wife's husband. "How to dodge trouble is the brand of information I'm looking for."—Chicago News.

THE YELLOW FLAG.

A Ruse That Once Saved a British Ship From Capture.

An effective ruse de guerre in the way of flag flying was that practiced in the Mediterranean at the beginning of the last century by Lord Dundonald while cruising in the British ship Speedy. This little brig had captured so many of the enemy's merchantmen that a Spanish frigate was specially fitted out, disguised as a merchantman, to bring her to book.

Dundonald, in order to deceive the merchant craft of the enemy, adopted similar tactics and disguised the Speedy as a Danish merchant brig. The two disguised boats soon sighted each other. Dundonald at once gave chase and discovered his mistake when the Spaniard suddenly revealed her true nature and started lowering a boat to examine the Speedy's papers.

But Dundonald was equal to the occasion. He hoisted the yellow flag—signal of sickness. And when the Spanish boat was within hail an English officer in Danish uniform shouted that they were only two days out of Algiers. As the plague was raging in Algiers, the ruse was completely successful.—London Chronicle

CO-OPERATIVE "DOLLAR DAY" PLAN IS A DECIDED SUCCESS

LARGE NUMBERS OF SHOPPERS MAKE EXTENSIVE PURCHASES IN THIS CITY YESTERDAY. ATTRACTED BY LIBERAL OFFERS OF NEARLY ALL OF THE LOCAL BUSINESS HOUSES.

Washington C. H. merchants co-operated Thursday to try out in this city "Dollar Day," which has been worked out periodically in practically all the large cities and in many smaller ones, without anything like the wealth of Fayette county, or the splendid mercantile opportunities of her county seat.

Merchants wanted to see how people in this section would respond to their efforts.

The "Dollar Day" project was certainly given the acid test.

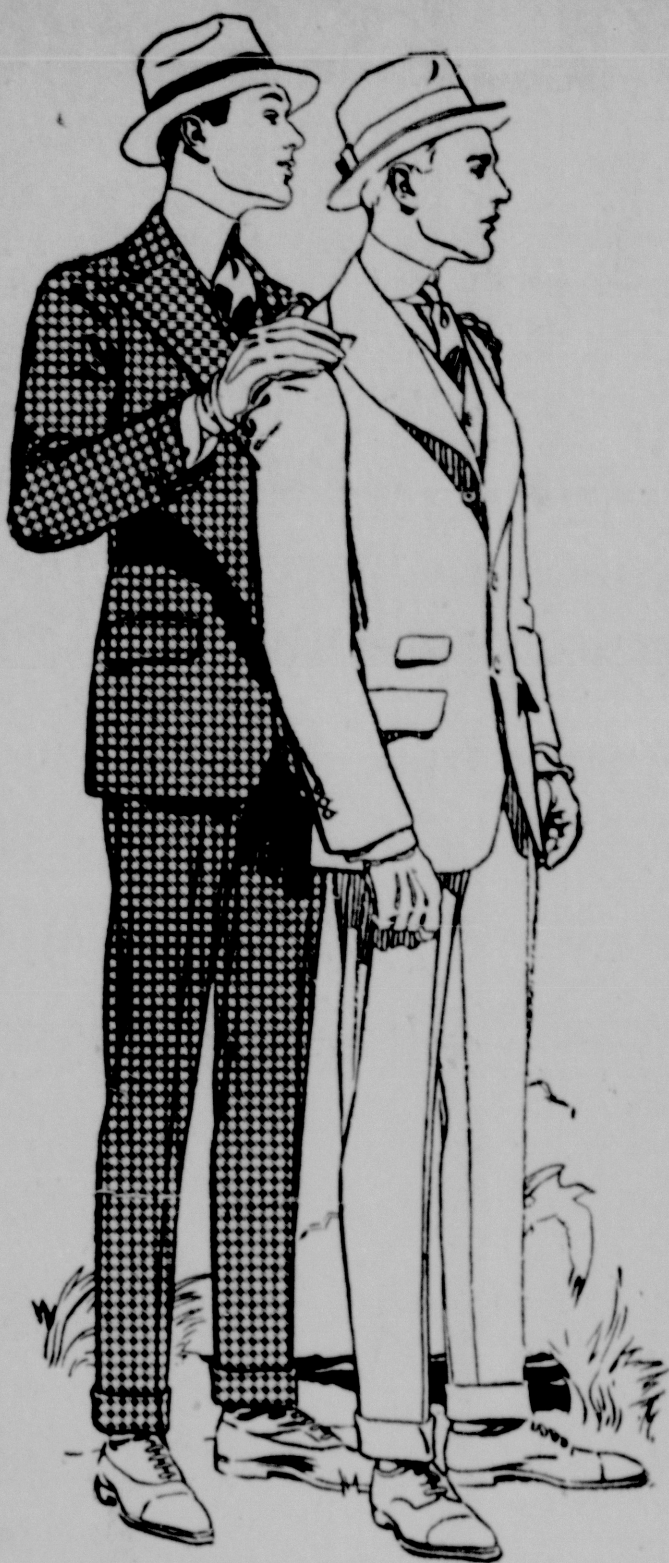

At the busiest season of the year, men in the fields, women in the throes of house cleaning, following upon the excitement of the Horse Show, and right after stocksale day, noted as a good day for visitors, there had to be something doing to bring people to town.

But they came. It was only necessary to glance down Court and Main streets and see the autos and vehicles and hurrying people to prove that. It was only necessary to peep in the stores and see aisles crowded and people jostling each other to get to the bargains, to be convinced that the inducements of the day were fully appreciated.

The success of the try out of "Dollar Day" in Washington was unquestioned and indicated that too a periodical "Dollar Day" would prove advantageous to both merchants and shoppers.

The magnets of the generous offers of Washington's merchants drew many customers never seen in their stores before, accomplishing one of the foremost purposes of "Dollar Day," the enlarging of business acquaintances, always a big factor in the promoting of increased business activity.

Mrs. Louis Ward, of Xenia, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Vera Veail, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Elsie Scott, left Friday afternoon for Los Angeles, California, where they will visit Mr. Elmer Veail, and make headquarters for a tour of the Golden State. Enroute they will visit Miss Gertrude Veail in Chicago and stop at places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones and baby, of Portsmouth, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fogle.

Mr. Walter Moore, who attended the Horse Sales and visited relatives here, returned Friday to his home near Chicago.

Mrs. Frank James is seriously ill at her home east of town. Dr. Winder, a blood specialist of Columbus, was called in consultation by the attending physician, Dr. H. L. Stitt, Thursday.

Miss Grace Lauderback has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Frank Jones, in Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Garlinger are announcing the arrival of a daughter on the twentieth of this month.

In Social Circles

One of the most elaborate and brilliant affairs of many seasons in the Fraternal Order of Eagles, was the ladies' social session and banquet at the club rooms Thursday night.

The banquet was served at ten o'clock in the large lodge hall, which was beautifully decorated in the national colors. Red and white carnations and greenery decked the long tables.

Before and afterwards dancing was enjoyed in the old I. O. O. F. quarters across the hall. Splendid music was furnished by Whelpley, Kneisley and Ramsey and some of the popular minstrel music was repeated to the delight of the guests. Messrs Pearce, Harvey, Wm. Smith, Ed Smith, and Updyke sang solos and there were quartets and double quartets. Everybody had a royal good time.

The committee in charge of the banquet was made up of Mesdames Fred Backenstoe, Perce Pearce, M. B. Shank, Chas. Briggs, Will Smith.

PREPARING NORTH STREET FOR BASE

From East street to the North corporation line, North street is now being placed in condition for the concrete base which is to be laid under the entire improvement.

For several days the steam roller has been busy on the street and men have been filling up all depressions and establishing the proper grade before the last touches are given for the concrete base.

Next Monday is the date set for beginning the concrete work, and it is expected that when the work is once started it will move forward very rapidly. Nearly one-half square of the base will be laid daily until completed.

GREENFIELD WILL PAVE MAIN STREETS

The Greenfield council, at a meeting this week, voted to pave large portions of the two main streets.

Jefferson street from first to sixth is to be paved; Washington street from North to the B. & O. tracks.

Only one member of the Greenfield council voted against the paving resolutions.

One would think that Duffee's Shoe Shop was a millinery store by the number of ladies that come in to have their shoes repaired. You can't fool the ladies long, as they soon find out where to get their shoes repaired the way they want them. Ladies' sewed soles 50c; men's 75c. Rubber heels 35. I give rebate stamps. ## BIG HORSE SALE COMES TO CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Late Friday afternoon the spring sales of the Washington Sales Company came to a close, after one of the most successful sales ever held in the city.

Until the last animal was sold the good prices continued and the general average was high. A large number of horses sold for figures well over $200.

The crowd Friday was large and the number of men who came to buy was unusually big. Bidding throughout the sale was lively, and the management is pleased with the results.

Some of the best prices obtained are given below: King B., consigned by Joe Overfield, North Lewisburg, Ohio, purchased by W. E. Stafford, $600. Joe Ashland, consigned by John Creamer, Jeffersonville, brought $445, and was purchased by Robert Minshall. Bond Alert, consigned by W. E. Kreider, West Milton, Ohio sold for $390. He was purchased by Abe Blessing. Other purchases were No. 94, $325, purchased by Herman Friss; No. 120, $525, Herman Friss; No. 125, $210, Herman Friss; No. 132, Geo. Weaver, $205; No. 139, $225, C. E. Snowdew; No. 142, Cary Short, $235; No. 9, J. R. Hutchings, $310.

TRAIN RIDERS GATHER BOUQUETS

Five young men, picked up by B. & O. detective R. A. Kennedy, faced Judge Rell G. Allen, Friday morning, on a charge of train riding, and upon their plea of guilty were given their choice of a workhouse sentence or ridding the court house lawn of the myriad of dandelions which have been increasing rapidly each year.

The five chose the plucking of dandelions and set to work, each with a basket, rooting out the offensive yellow blossoms. At the rate the men are traveling it will require several days to cover the entire lawn.

BRANCH HILL PLAYERS BUCK ATHLETICS SUNDAY

The Branch Hill Exhibition Players, a stiff touring ball team from Hills Center, O., will stack up against the local Athletics at Athletic park Sunday afternoon. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock sharp.

Jack Pfeister, formerly a member of the slab force of the Chicago Cubs, will twirl for the Hillicans. Reno will do the pill shooting for Washington.

The batting order of both teams follows:

Hill Center—Kerr, c; Weyand, cf; Flynn, 2b; Philhauer, rf; Burkhardt, 3b; Ernie, ss; Beck, lf; Myers, 1b; Pfeister, c.

Washington—Reed, 3b; Jones, cf; Corwin, ss; Runnells, 2b; Grandie, 1b; Noon, lf; Mobley, rf; Hagerty, c; Reno, p. Umpire, Merz.

It will be noted that Noon will return to his old position in left field, but it is not certain that he will remain there. The shift places Mobley in the right garden and Grandie on first base.

SEES BIG FUTURE FOR EAST CLEVELAND

Seth E. Parrett, formerly of this city but now engaged in the real estate business in Cleveland, is given considerable space in a recent issue of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, in an article in which he gives a history of the remarkable growth of East Cleveland and predicts that part of the big lake city is the coming residence part of the city.

The Plain Dealer carried a picture of Mr. Parrett and attaches much importance to the contribution by Mr. Parrett.

INTERURBAN CARS WRECKED ON LAKE SHORE

Sandusky, O., April 30. — Between 30 and 40 persons were injured when two limited cars, one eastbound and the other westbound, came together on the southern division of the Lake Shore Electric at Flora siding, two miles west of Clyde.

Mrs. Flora Boner, sixty, of Fremont, will probably die. Her spine was injured and she was cut about the head.

Others of the more seriously injured are: Jesse Vickery, attorney, Clyde, skull fractured; F. J. Baldwin, Toledo, ribs broken and scalp torn; George Moore, Fremont, badly cut about the head; Bert Sandwich, motorman on the eastbound car, cut about the head and arm fractured; Mrs. O. E. Johnson, Fremont, ribs fractured; George Johnson, ten, son of Mrs. O. E. Johnson, head cut, lrving Fanghoner, Fremont.

Many of the injured persons were rushed from the scene in automobiles. After receiving such treatment as their wounds demanded at Clyde or Fremont, they went their respective ways. Fire broke out in the wreckage and both cars were destroyed.

According to reports received at the general offices of the Lake Shore Electric here, the westbound car, running twenty minutes late, was to have gone into Flora siding, but failed to do so, although the reason has not been ascertained. An investigation is under way.

L. B. Wiles, conductor, and Bert Sandwich, motorman, were in charge of the eastbound car. M. A. Truman, conductor, and Will Kaiser, motorman, were in charge of the westbound car. All live at Fremont. With the exception of Sandwich, all escaped with only slight injuries.

MR. WALSH HITS BACK

Kansas City, Mo., April 30.—"I called Rockefeller a liar," Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the federal industrial relations commission, said, "and," he continued, "in return Mr. Rockefeller calls me a liar."

"But the mass of correspondence proves conclusively John D. Rockefeller, Jr., dodged the issue and showed he testified to untrue facts on the stand at the former hearing."

Mr. Walsh referred to the private telegrams and letters that have come into the hands of the commission showing the close relations between the Rockefellers' offices in New York and the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

"I would hardly call Rockefeller a hypocrite yet," Mr. Walsh said. "You know that is a pretty strong charge to make against any man. But all through the investigation into the strike conditions, that cost the lives of men, women and children, he has covered up. At least he has covered up through the press. He has hired his own publicity agents to handle the situation."

"Rockefeller said I made my statements on deductions and not on facts. I have the facts, and they will be brought out at the hearing in Washington next week."

BRYANT'S POETIC CAREER.

Two Facts About His Greatest Work, "Thanatopsis."

Bryant was nearly twenty-three years old when "Thanatopsis" was first printed in the North American Review. So much has been said about the astounding precocity of this poet and so many errors have accumulated around the publication of his masterpiece that it may be well to state the facts.

We know just two facts about this work. First, it was published when Bryant was almost twenty-three—not young for a poetic genius; second, that in its original published form in the North American Review it is not a remarkable poem.

It was in the 1821 edition of Bryant's poems, when the author was twenty-six or twenty-seven, that the work first appeared in its universally known form. Only a few minor changes were made after that date. This disposes of the generally accepted statement that "Thanatopsis" is a juvenile masterpiece.

Bryant was, however, a precocious poet, although his precocity is not displayed in his greatest work. One of the most extraordinary facts about his poetical career is that he actually published verse during the administration of Thomas Jefferson and during the

is any increasing sentiment in that direction, we do believe that the system should be modified by dispensing with the requirement for unanimous verdicts. This would obviate the element of individual eccentricity as an impediment to the administration of justice. Mental idiosyncrasy on the part of judges is constantly exhibited and scarcely excites comment. An eminent and very able judge will dissent from the ruling of his associates when it is extremely difficult to understand how so gifted a mind could have gone off on that particular tangent. By permitting affirmances or reversals, notwithstanding dissent, the personal equation is eliminated."

Modeled After an Ancient Tomb.

The temple of the Scottish rite in Washington is a handsome white marble structure about 150 feet square and rises to a height of 150 feet above the street level. At either side of the main entrance is an immense marble sphinx. A row of tall Ionic columns surrounds the second story. The architects followed closely the design of the ancient tomb of King Mausolus, which stood in Halicarnassus and was one of the seven wonders of the world. It was built by the wife of the king and was decorated with hundreds of wonderful statues. This old tomb became so famous that many buildings were modeled after it, but this is the only structure in America in which the design has been used.

GERMAN FLEET REPORTED HAVING BOMBARDED BELGIAN COAST TOWN

Belgians Kill 4,000 Germans in Repulsing Attack—British Commandeer Space on Steamers From South America—Germans Launch General Offensive on Prussian Border—Appeal Made to Pope to Abandon Present Attitude—Turks Claim Repulse of Allies.

By Associated Press. London, April 30.—An official statement from Paris says that German warships have appeared off the Belgian coast, and have bombarded Dunkirk. Twenty persons were killed.

The presence of the German high seas fleet in the North Sea has been reported several times recently, and an official statement issued in Berlin a few days ago spoke of several expeditions of this kind, which were made without encountering the British fleet.

The captain of a Swedish steamer reported he had encountered a large number of German warships several days ago in the North Sea.

Marked progress apparently has been made by the allies in their efforts to win the Dardanelles by land operations.

Reports indicate that the British have succeeded in establishing two lines across the Gallipoli peninsula, one on the European side of the Dardanelles, near the tip, the second on the other side, near the entrance to the Sea of Marmora.

Significant in this connection is an official report from Berlin, which tends to confirm the report of last night that the British had pushed their way across the peninsula to the Sea of Marmora.

Such a line, if held, would cut off the Turkish defenders of the peninsula from assistance in the way of supplies and reinforcements from Constantinople.

An official statement from the Belgian government says that a German attack from Steenstraete was repulsed. It is said four thousand Germans were almost annihilated by the Belgian artillery.

Rome, April 30.—Belgian and French cardinals, archbishops and bishops have united in an appeal to Pope Benedict for the Vatican to abandon the attitude of neutrality it has maintained since the beginning of the war.

They say they cannot understand how the head of a church which is founded on principles of right and justice can remain neutral, without protesting, at the same time, against those who violate written or unwritten laws.

The pontiff is urged to assume an attitude which would be epoch making in the history of the papacy.

Paris, April 30.—A dispatch from Athens to the Havas Agency says that the city of Gallipoli, on the European side of the Dardanelles near the entrance to the Sea of Marmora, has been captured by the allies.

and gave chase to the submarine, but it escaped.

The British steamer reported sunk last night by a German submarine was today identified as the Mobilie, carrying a cargo of coal.

The Admiralty announced today that the German steamer Macedonia, which escaped from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, a few weeks ago, has been captured by a British cruiser.

London, April 30.—A German fleet was sighted today in the North Sea off the coast of Belgium.

The German official report says, in this connection, that the fortress of Dunkirk was shelled yesterday by German artillery.

Zeebrugge, in Belgium, a base of the German submarine service is reported in a message from Amsterdam to have been bombarded heavily.

A British official statement given out this evening says it is not true that German warships have bombarded Dunkirk.

37 HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

By Associated Press. Higbee, Mo., April 30.—Thirty-seven persons were injured, two seriously, it was learned today, in the wreck of a Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train, near here last night.

DEATH RIDES ON WINDSTORM

By Associated Press. San Francisco, April 30.—Two persons were known to be dead today, and other lives may be lost, as a result of the violent wind storm last night, which, at its height, reached a velocity of nearly 100 miles an hour.

Record breaking cold weather and high wind in a half a dozen far western states abated somewhat today after causing widespread damage. This may be increased in fruit districts by frost tonight.

Scores of small vessels were driven ashore along the California coasts. In San Francisco two boys were killed by a live wire.

Orchards in California and Oregon suffered, and from Idaho came reports of thousands of lambs frozen to death.

In eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana the temperature fell 25 degrees in 12 hours.

BRYAN AND JAP HOLD CONFERENCE

By Associated Press. Washington, April 30.—Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, had another long conference today with Secretary Bryan, presumably on the Japanese-Chinese negotiations being conducted in Peking, but officials remained silent after their meeting.

While no inkling has been given of the course to be followed by the United States with respect to new demands, those familiar with the previous course of American policy believe some further modification may be urged before the demands can be construed as not affecting the administrative independence of China.

SLIGHT DAMAGE DONE BY BOMBS

MASSACRE RENEWED

Julfa, Trans-Caucasia, April 30.—A renewal of the recent massacre of Christians in Armenia is now in progress in the whole district of Lake Van.

Conflicts between the Armenians and the Kurds are daily becoming more obdurate. An exceptionally fierce engagement is occurring today at Shatash.

$50,000 FIRE VISITS CANTON

Canton, April 30.—Fire, starting in the top story of the Courtland Hotel here early today, caused damage estimated at $50,000 and drove 130 guests from their rooms in scanty attire.

The entire fire department responded to alarm. Two firemen were overcome by smoke, but were revived. Several had narrow escapes when the roof fell in.

NO SETTLEMENT OF COAL STRIKE

Cleveland, April 30.—Although continual progress is being made, a settlement of the eastern Ohio coal strike is not anticipated for today, by members of the joint scale committee of miners and operators in meeting here.

William Green, secretary of the state miners, said he believed he could see a settlement ahead, and C. E. Maurer, for the operators, declared he was optimistic over the outlook.

U. S. TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

Washington, April 30.—President Wilson today directed Attorney General Gregory to make an investigation, so that the government may be informed of the complaint filed yesterday in Milwaukee, to determine whether the Alice Chalmers Company has entered a conspiracy with the Bethlehem Steel Company, or others, to ship shrapnel shells to Europe.

GERMAN AIRMEN ATTACK U.S. BOAT

By Associated Press. London, April 30.—The Reuters Telegram Company has received a dispatch from its correspondent at Rotterdam, saying that the American steamer Cushing, from Philadelphia, arrived at Rotterdam today, and reports having been attacked by German airmen in the North Sea last Wednesday. The airmen dropped two bombs, but no damage was done. The Cushing was flying the American flag at the time of this attack, and her name was displayed on her sides in huge letters.

TEDDY HAS HIS INNING IN BIG DAMAGE CASE

Witness Testifies That Plaintiff Opposed Direct Primaries in Order to Shield Bad Candidates—Rif-raff Was to Be Used in Election to Turn Public Sentiment.

By Associated Press. Syracuse, N. Y., April 30.—That fully endeavored, during the day, to get from H. H. Vreeland, former president of the Metropolitan Securities Company, the holding company for the New York Street Railways Company, testimony that he had contributed to both the Democratic and the Republican organizations in 1903, when Mr. Barnes was chairman of the executive committee of the Republican State Committee.

Wm. M. Ivins, chief counsel for William Barnes, today denied that he had telegraphed Governor Whitman last night and requested him to appear as a witness later in the trial of the suit. An aide to Mr. Ivins had previously declared, however, that an answer had been expected from the governor before midnight, but that none had been received.

AMERICANS WORK HARD ALONG FRONT

By Associated Press. London, April 30.—No ambulance corps at the front is attracting more attention than the American Volunteer Motor Ambulance Corps under the leadership of Richard Norton. Recently, the British Red Cross, with which the Corps is affiliated, ordered it to return for service with the British forces from the Second French army with which it had been operating since it reached French soil. But in the meantime the whole ambulance organization of the Second French Army had been based on the American corps and the French Medical department objected strongly to giving it up. The result has been a compromise whereby the Corps will be enlarged to work with both armies.

HOME TEACHERS FOR BLIND ARE PROVIDED

Ohio Commission Brings Sunshine Into Lives of Sightless.

To be blind is a tragedy which not one of us would wish to face. To be blind and idle is an even greater tragedy.

The Ohio Commission For the Blind is endeavoring to lessen the burden of a life in darkness by sending home teachers to visit the blind in their homes. Sometimes little can be done to improve the situation; usually, however, the home teacher is able to bring at least encouragement by showing that in spite of her blindness she is still able to be of service in the world. These state home teachers give instruction wherever desired in reading, in sewing, knitting and other forms of work.

Many a shut-in blind person has not only been greatly cheered by the visits of the commission's home teachers, but also enabled to earn something towards their support.

AVOID CONTAGION.

Get the Health History of a House Before You Move Into It.

To those intending to buy or move into a house that has been occupied the following advice is offered by the Woman's Home Companion:

"Guard your family from contagious disease germs in the new house. It has been proved that thousands of tuberculosis and scarlet fever cases annually are the result of moving into houses which have not been disinfected.

"Secure the 'health history' of the house you expect to buy or rent. It will be supplied by your board of health, your health officer or any physician who practices in your town. If it has housed a tuberculosis patient don't take that house; find another.

"No matter what the 'health history' of the house, have the plumbing examined, the drains flushed and the entire house disinfected.

"If the walls are to be repapered have the old paper removed.

"Do not move into any house where the cellar has been flooded and is moldy.

"In towns where there is neither city water nor sewerage system make sure that the well and the cesspool are widely separated."

A man must be excessively stupid as well as uncharitable who believes there is no virtue but on his own side.—Addison.

SCENE AT THE POLO GROUNDS

New York, April 30.—Benny Kauff, the Ty Cobb of the Federal league, deserted the Brooklyn Federal league club and signed a three years' iron-clad contract with the New York Nationals. When he attempted to play center field for the Giants, President James E. Gaffney of the world's champion Braves, with the backing of the league president, John K. Tener, refused to allow his club to take the field against the outlaw deserter. After a long wrangle McGraw benched Kauff and the game proceeded. Kauff is ineligible, according to the laws of organized baseball. He will never be permitted to play in the National league unless he is reinstated by the national commission.

ROLLER TOWEL IS CARRIER OF GERMS

Many Eyes Destroyed by Its Promiscuous Use.

Never wipe your face on a towel that someone else has used. The Ohio Commission for the Blind has unquestionable evidence that eyes have been damaged by persons wiping their eyes upon a towel that has been used by others.

Because you may live in a home in which everything is cleanly does not relieve you from the risk you run, for the infection which may be endangering your eyes may be transferred to the towel from your hands and those of others.

Every family should make an effort to provide an individual cloth or towel for the use of the face. So long as some eye difficulties have arisen from several people using the same towel, it is certainly up to all of us to insist upon having an individual towel, not only in a public place, but also in the home.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the keynote of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

C. H. & D. SHOPS RUN FULL TIME

Lima, Ohio, April 29.—For the first time in two years the shops of the C. H. & D. Railroad here, employing 400 men, will work a full month. On previous occasions the appropriations ran out long before the month was over and the shops were closed until the beginning of the following month.

The machine shops are using their full quota of men and are working full time to keep up with the work. It was said today by local officials that the shops would be likely to run on full time for several months to come, as much equipment needed repair. The enormous increase in business of the road the past two weeks has caused the activity, the coal traffic to the lakes being heavier than at any time in the history of the road.

MILLIONS FOR BETTERMENTS

Baltimore, Md., April 28.—The expected financing to be done by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company came today with the announcement that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. have purchased $40,000,000 4 1/2 per cent secured gold notes. These notes are equally divided as follows: $20,000,000 maturing June 1, 1917, two year maturities are offered at 99 1/2 and the three-year maturities at 99.

This offering will more than take care of the $35,000,000 one-year notes, which fall due June 1 next, and leaves $5,000,000 for further betterment or other forms of financing.

TALENTED GIRL TO GIVE RECITAL

No little local interest attaches to a recital, to be given by Miss Mary Hazel Post, reader, impersonator and monologist, of Ohio University, at Wayne Hall, Good Hope, Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Sugar Grove church.

This will be Miss Post's first appearance in public since leaving the local High school, where her ability first attained recognition. She will present a delightfully varied repertoire, the amusing and humorous in the lead, and rich entertainment is promised in her program.

Musical talent will assist a vocal quartet, Mrs. Silcott, Mrs. Cockerill, Messrs. Silcott and Hardway, with Mrs. Everhart accompanist. Miss Bernice Boggs, piano soloist and a song by Margaret Alice Porter.

SENIOR GIRLS ENTERTAIN TEACHERS

The Senior girls of the Domestic Science department, under the direction of the domestic science teacher, Miss Maude Chester, served luncheon to half of the High school teachers and evening dinner to the remainder.

It was a practical lesson in serving for the girls and a genuine treat to the guests. Both luncheon and dinner were served with exquisite daintiness, a color scheme of green and white at the former and violet and white at the latter.

Four courses of deliciously cooked viands were served and the place cards were extremely pretty little hand painted affairs.

HISTORIC AQUEDUCT DESTROYED BY FIRE

The historic old aqueduct across the Scioto river at Circleville was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, and it is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin, as numerous attempts had been made to burn the old structure.

The structure was completed in 1831, at a cost of $40,000. It was of wood construction and was in a splendid state of preservation.

A STORY THAT VARIES.

The Bride Who Got Into a Chest and Was Found Dead There.

There is a story more or less diffused of a young bride on her wedding day playing the game of hide and seek and concealing herself in one of those ancient carved chests of large size. After she had got in the lid closed, and she found herself unable to raise it again, for it fastened with a spring, and she was shut in. Search was made for her in every quarter but the right one, and great perplexity and dismay were caused by her disappearance. It was not till years after, when chance led to the opening of the chest, that the body of the young bride was discovered and the mystery of her disappearance solved.

The story is found in so many places that it may be questioned whether it is true of any one of them. Rogers tells it of a palace in Modena. The chest in which the poor bride was found is shown at Bramshill, in Hampshire, the residence of Sir John Cope. Another similar chest, with precisely the same story attached to it, was long shown at Marwell Old Hall, between Winchester and Bishop's Waltham.

The folk tale of Catskin or Peau d'Ane represents the girl flying with her bridal dresses from a marriage that is repugnant to her, and as this tale is found all over Europe it may have metamorphosed itself into that of the bride who got into a chest and died there.—Cornhill Magazine.

BLUNDERING REPORTERS.

Mistakes That Mangled the Speakers' Words and Feelings.

"Drunkenness is folly!" earnestly exclaimed Bishop Magee in the house of lords on a celebrated occasion. How horrified was the prelate to read in the papers next morning that he had given utterance to the very bacchanalian sentiment, "Drunkenness is folly!"

Lord Salisbury was a master phrase-maker, but one of his best points was spoiled when a careless reporter turned his reference to "manacles and Manito" into the meaningless "manacles and men at the bar."

Sir William Harcourt was badly misquoted once. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!" he exclaimed upon the platform, but one paper had it: "Great Dinah! What a farce is this!"

Lack of knowledge of familiar quotations is a prolific source of misreporting. For instance, a speaker once made use of the well known lines from Milton's "L'Allegro":

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven ye kept Euphrosyne.

The brilliant reporter deputed to "take him down" was in despair. He could not make head or tail of this mysterious utterance. But, following the sound as far as possible, he seized his pen and produced the following gem:

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven she crept and froze her knees.
The speaker was taken down in more senses than one.—London Answers.

Golf in the Old Days.

Centuries back golf was a pastime of the royal family, though then usually played in Scotland. The Stuart family was very fond of the game, and the first English club was established at Blackheath in 1608 by James I. His eldest son, Henry, frequently played and on one occasion nearly struck by accident his tutor with a club, whereupon he coolly remarked, "Had I done so I had but paid my debts." Charles I. was playing golf when he received the news of the Irish rebellion. James, duke of York, afterward James II., was another ardent player. Golf is frequently mentioned in ancient Scottish records and in the fifteenth century was prohibited because it interfered with the practice of archery. Strutt considered it the most ancient game at ball requiring a bat.—London Standard.

Puss and the Weather.

The cat is an excellent barometer. When you see a cat wetting its paw in its mouth and then rubbing it energetically over the upper part of its ear you may feel pretty certain that rain is coming. This action is pussy's method of relieving the uncomfortable feeling in its ears caused by the change in the atmospheric pressure which precedes a storm. If the unpleasant feeling in the ear were due to a foreign substance then the cat would scratch the ear with its hind foot. But when pussy scrubs its ear with its saliva moistened paw it is when rain is impending.

Do not think that years leave us and find us the same.—Meredith.

Care of the Ear.

Never be alarmed if a living insect enters the ears. Pouring warm water into the canal will drown it, when it will generally come to the surface and can easily be removed by the fingers. A few puffs of tobacco smoke blown into the ear will stupefy the insect. Never meddle with the ear if a foreign body, such as a bead, button or seed enters it. Leave it absolutely alone, but have a physician attend to it. More damage has been done by injudicious attempts at the extraction of a foreign body than could ever come from its presence in the ear.—Health.

Attacked in Front and Rear

A youngster of our acquaintance who has a faculty for getting into scrapes recently expressed the wish that he was a postage stamp. When asked why, he answered, "Because a postage stamp can only be licked once," whereupon we pointed out that the stamp received, besides the licking, a severe punch in the face.—Boston Transcript.

Contrary Efforts.

"Well?"
"The friend went immediately after him to check the cash."—Baltimore American.

A Great Principle.

"Forgive your enemies," said the earnest man. "That's good religion."
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum, "and sometimes it's good politics too!"—Washington Star

THE SCOTT BROS. STORES

WASHINGTON C. H.

BLOOMINGBURG.

CONFIDENT THE DECENTRALIZER WILL GO THROUGH

Columbus, April 30.—As a result of a series of conferences, Governor Willis is said to have succeeded in bringing about practical agreement between the administration and representatives of the Cincinnati Republican organization for support of a bill to decentralize the saloon licensing system. There still is disagreement on details, but agreement on major provisions presages the ultimate passage of a license bill which will conform to the minimum requirements insisted upon by the governor—removal of licensing authority from the state and retention in the state of authority to enforce laws regulating the traffic.

With the Andrews bill on the house table, the scene of action will be shifted to the senate, where, on Tuesday, Senator McDermott of Trumbull will introduce the new bill. Like the original McDermott measure, it will divide the state into thirty-three licensing districts, Cuyahoga and Hamilton counties to be separate districts, and each of the remaining districts to be composed of two or three counties.

In each of these districts, three of the elective county officers will compose an appointing board to name for each county two license commissioners of opposite politics.

The Cincinnatians favor intrusting law enforcement to a state board of three, the state auditor, treasurer and an excise commissioner to be appointed by the governor. The latter insists that law enforcement must be under the control of the head of the state government, whereas a majority of the proposed board would not be responsible to him. Accordingly the bill is expected to place the duty of seeing that Sunday closing and other regulations are complied with in the hands of a single excise commissioner, appointed by the governor. But an appeal may be provided from the excise commissioner to an appointive, unsalaried state board of two members, to review revocations of licenses.

Affects 1 Per Cent Act.

The Republicans voted with senate Democrats to make a small puncture in the Smith 1 per cent law by passing the Fellingner bill, designed to aid municipalities in complying with orders of the state board of health in the construction of water purification and sewage disposal plants. The measure allows the city to issue bonds for the construction of such plants, the interest and sinking fund charges of which may go beyond the 15 mill limit of the Smith act.

The senate passed the Thatcher house bill, exempting farmers who manufacture agriculture lime and sell it to their neighbors from the required payment of the $30 license fee to the agricultural commission.

Senator Wickline introduced a bill providing for the appointment by the governor of a permanent state building commission, with authority to erect a state office building if it is found to be necessary.

The Horn bill, authorizing the construction and operation of municipally owned gas and electric light plants in villages where private plants are already in operation, was defeated in the senate by a vote of 9 to 17. Senator Howard, Republican floor leader, led the fight against the bill.

Incident to adjourning until 11 a. m. Tuesday to permit the finance committee without interruption to finish the long budget for introduction that day, Majority Leader Whittemore announced in the house that effort would be made to complete the session by the end of next week and to recess until the middle of the following week, when adjournment sine die would be taken.

The house passed the Fox bill to furnish by transfer from the general revenue fund $1,164,600 to enable the highway department to make contracts in nine counties. The money is appropriated in anticipation of the June collection of the road tax.

The house for the third time postponed consideration of the motion to revive the Gallagher bill, this time until next Wednesday.

Friends of labor won a victory when the Archer senate bill was sent by the house to an unfriendly committee, where it is likely to die.

OHIO BRIEFS

Price to Quit O. S. U.

Columbus, April 30.—Dean Homer C. Price of the college of agriculture, Ohio State university, recently removed by the board of trustees, will not remain at the university in another capacity. President Thompson tendered him the professorship of rural economics at the maximum salary, but Dean Price declined. In a letter to President Thompson, Price in resending the action of the board points to the progress of the college under his administration.

Ellison For Mayor.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Captain J. F. Ellison, former president of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce, announced his candidacy for the nomination for mayor of Cincinnati on the Republican ticket. Captain Ellison is interested in river transportation.

Four Men Caught.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Without warning a section of the foundation of a laundry building, in course of demolition, collapsed. Four men were caught. Henry Willen, foreman of the crew, was probably fatally injured.

Scent Strike Settlement.

Cleveland, April 30.—Prospects of a settlement of the strike in the eastern Ohio coal fields appear bright. The question of strike arbitration was ratified by the conference.

Village Blaze.

Ashtabula, O., April 30.—Fire destroyed the Yale-Redmond two-story business block in Jefferson, causing a loss of $7,000 and putting four merchants out of business.

TWO GIRLS ARE FATALLY BURNED

Cardington, O., April 30.—Wilma Brenner, eight, was burned to death, and her sister Marie, thirteen, was probably fatally injured in a fire which destroyed the home of W. C. Brenner, three miles southwest of this place. The two girls poured coal oil on live coals in the cook stove in an effort to start fire to prepare supper and were enveloped in the flames, that leaped to the ceiling. The younger girl lived three hours after being rescued, while the other, her body horribly burned and her eyes seared, is not expected to live. In addition to the house, which was destroyed, six other farm buildings were burned, causing a total loss of $3,500.

DROP BOMBS ON ENGLISH COAST TOWNS

London, April 30.—Another German air raid on the east coast of England occurred early today. Several bombs were dropped on the town of Ipswich, in Suffolk, sixty-six miles northeast of London. Three houses were set on fire, but so far as is known nobody was seriously injured. At last reports the air craft was steering in the direction of Stowmarket, a small town about twelve miles northwest of Ipswich. It is not stated whether the craft was a Zeppelin or an aeroplane.

Bombs were also dropped on Whittenton, but so far as known no one was injured.

This is the second raid on England in a little over two weeks. The last was a visit of a Zeppelin on April 13 to Newcastle-on-Tyne, where several bombs were dropped. Several nearby towns in Northumberland were bombarded at the same time, but no great damage was caused. Newcastle is a great naval station and manufacturing center. Ipswich is neither. It is a town of about 70,000 people, at the mouth of the river Gipping. Stowmarket is a small town of about 4,500 people near Bury St. Edmunds.

At the time of the recent raids on towns near London it was stated in German newspapers that the flights were merely reconnaissances to preparing ground for a great Zeppelin raid on London and the principal cities of southeastern England. It was reported that Count Zeppelin himself was on the Belgian coast to organize the concerted raid.

French aviators have succeeded in reaching the Zeppelin dirigible works at Friedrichshafen. Dispatches from both Geneva and Berlin admit that, but the details differ. It is reported in a wireless dispatch from Berlin that a French aviator dropped six bombs on the plant, two of which did some damage. It was thought the aeroplane was hit. Geneva announces, on the other hand, that the French airmen have made two attacks on the works within thirty-six hours, destroying five airships, setting fire to several buildings and doing at least $1,000,000 worth of damage. On their return the aeroplanes circled over Metz, dropping bombs and arrows.

ENGLISH LIQUOR BILL LAUNCHED

London, April 30.—The bill designed to restrict the sale and use of intoxicants was introduced in the house of commons by David Lloyd-George. The chancellor declared that excessive drinking among the employees of the navy yards and those engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war was seriously affecting the output. Lloyd-George proposes to double the duty on spirits, quadruple the duties on wines and to institute an increase by graduated tax on beer—to encourage the use of lighter beers.

BITE OF BABE PROVES FATAL

Pittsfield, Mass., April 30.—Miss Martha Kleiner, twenty-two, died here home in Adams from blood poisoning, which resulted from the bite of a baby whom she was attending. Three weeks ago Miss Kleiner came here to visit relatives and, fond of children, she attended the baby in the household. While changing the infant's clothing she leaned down over the baby's face and was bitten deeply on the nose by the baby, whose small sharp teeth dug into the flesh. Blood poisoning soon developed and could not be arrested.

MASSING TROOPS ON FRONTIER

Rome, April 30.—It is evident that Austria regards the entry of Italy into the war as imminent. Large Austrian forces are now being rushed to the Italian frontier. The railroads leading into the "Tyrolean salient" as well as to the Venetian border are used exclusively for the transport of troops and munitions. Ordinary traffic on these lines has been suspended for three days. Troops are also being sent in great numbers to Dalmatia. Troop ships, convoyed by warships, are leaving Pola, the Austrian naval base, for Cattaro, which has been besieged since the beginning of the war by Montenegrins, with the aid of the allied fleet. Mine sowing has been extended by the Austrians all along the east coast of the Adriatic.

A dispatch from Taranto reports the concentration there of hundreds of steamers for the transport of Italian troops, probably to the Dardanelles. It is impossible to obtain confirmation of this report here.

Further reports of disturbances in the Trentino are coming to hand. From the village of Arco 250 half-starved women marched to Riva at the head of Lake Garda and close to the Italian frontier, demanding bread and shouting "Down with the war!" The women were charged by gendarmes and many of them were bayoneted. Two women and a child were trampled to death. Austrian troops were rushed to Arco and 700 soldiers, wounded in the rioting there in the last few days, were sent to Innsbruck, as the hospital in Arco is used as a barracks. Bread riots are frequent in the entire Trentino, and they have invariably been repressed with bloodshed.

Men who have closely followed the war situation as far as it affects this country assert that as a result of the interchange of views between Italy and the allies the following points have been agreed upon: First, Italy will delay her entrance into the war until a concerted move can be made by all the enemies of Germany and Austria. This blow will be delivered

Progress On Public Work

Favored with ideal weather conditions the contractors on the public work of the city and county have been making remarkable progress.

The work is being pushed everywhere to the limit of capacity of men and equipment—no time has been wasted and the results attained are a pleasant surprise.

Local officials charged with the duty of overseeing the work—guarding the interests of the public—and insisting that the work be done according to specifications have been on the job almost constantly and with heavy improvements in sections of considerable distance removed from each other the work of overseeing the several improvements has been a task of some magnitude requiring the exercise of good judgment as well as no little amount of physical energy.

So far no serious clashes between officials and contractors have been reported, which would indicate that the contractors are striving to do the work properly.

Washington has undertaken a great deal of street improvement work and if the results of the work now under way prove satisfactory it is only a small percentage of that which will follow in the near future. Contractors have therefore the double incentive to do their work well—first the honor of it and second the prestige it will bring to them.

Perhaps it is for both reasons that the work is being well done, apparently. But the people are not so particular about the reason why, as they are about the work.

That seems to be satisfactory and if time reinforces present opinion there is credit enough for all interested to have their full share.

The Canadian Troops

The Canadian troops were called upon to play an important role in the great drama of the European war sooner really than the folks at home expected it.

The troops of the Dominion, fate placed in one of the positions along the great battle line of the Ypres, toward which the heaviest onslaught of the attacking German hosts was directed and their valor and intelligent fighting called forth expressions of admiration and unstinted praise from the veteran troops and commanders at other parts of the line and in reserve.

While the brave Canadians were not successful in turning back the avalanche of Germans they did as much as any body of troops could have done—held the Germans in check long enough to enable the main body of the reserves to form and check the advance shortly after the Canadian troops were forced to fall back.

Their baptism of fire was severe and the losses suffered staggering but they stood their ground bravely and fought like seasoned troops.

King George and his government have reason to be proud of the fighting men which the great colony in North America sent to aid the allies in response to the call for volunteers.

Many of the brave lads who marched away to war in foreign fields to aid the mother country in her struggle, now lie in unmarked graves on the greatest battlefield the world has ever seen.

Many Canadian homes are desolated—many hearts in the great land to the north of us are grief stricken because of the thousands who fell on the field of battle, but Canada has reason to feel proud of the record her troops have made and all the glory which war can bring the soldiers of the Dominion secured for their native land. They answered the call and paid nobly the awful toll of war. A nation can ask no more of her soldiers than was given by the Canadians on the battlefield of Ypres.

Conquest of Alcohol a Blessing the European War Will Bring

By HUDSON MAXIM, Noted Scientist and Inventor

FOUR of the greatest nations of the world, four of the greatest peoples of the world—Anglo-Saxon, Teuton, Latin, Slav—are now engaged in a life and death grapple for supremacy. It is not a conflict of unrefined, uncultured, unenlightened barbarism with ignorance and barbarism, but it is a warfare of science, education, enlightenment.

IT IS A WAR OF CIVILIZATION—OF RACE CULTURE AND RACE IDEALS AGAINST RACE CULTURE AND RACE IDEALS, AND ALL THOSE PEOPLE ARE, IN THE MAIN, BOTH GREAT AND GOOD, NOT SAVAGE, IGNORANT OR BARBAROUS.

With all its blight, its devastation, its misery, all its loss of life, this war will have its advantages and its blessings, not the least of which will be the conquest of alcohol. Russia has already conquered vodka, France absinth—bigger enemies than Germany and Austria—and England is aiming a deathblow at John Barleycorn, and if she deals him a knock-out she will conquer her worst enemy—AN ENEMY THAT HAS CAUSED MORE POVERTY, MISERY AND MURDER WITHIN HER FENCES—YEA, TENFOLD MORE—THAN HAVE BEEN PRODUCED BY ALL HER WARS.

Poetry For Today

INVOCATION.

O Thou whose equal purpose runs
 In drops of rain or streams of suns,
 And with a soft compulsion rolls
 The green earth of her snowy poles;
 O Thou who keepest in thy ken
 The times of flowers, the dooms of men,
 Stretch out a mighty wing above—
 Be tender to the land we love!

If all the huddlers from the storm
 Have found her hearthstone wide
 and warm;
 If she has made men free and glad,
 Sharing with all, the good she had,
 If she has blown the very dust
 From her bright balance to be just,
 Oh, spread a mighty wing above—
 Be tender to the land we love!

When is the dark eternal tower
 The star-clock strikes her trial hour,
 And for her help no more avail
 Her sea-blue shield, her mountain-mail,
 But sweeping wide, from gulf to lakes,
 The battle on her forehead breaks,
 Throw Thou a thunderous wing above—
 Be lightning for the land we love!

Luke McLuke Says

The woman who paints her face and wears clothes that make her look like an advertisement shouldn't complain because she attracts attention.

Us roughnecks may be dumb. But we still insist that a man who wears two watch crystals with tortoise shell rims isn't any better than we are.

A good working dictionary has a vocabulary of about 80,000 terms. And some men can use the whole 80,000 and not say anything.

The man who is trying to support a wife and a few children on $10 a week knows that all the peons are not located in Mexico.

Another sure thing is that a woman is always older than she thinks she looks.

The man who imagines that his nickel's worth of religion pays up his fire insurance from Sunday to Sunday feels sorry for the rest of the world.

This would be a fine world if we were as eager to take advantage of our opportunities to keep quiet as we are to take advantage of our opportunities to talk.

When there are two or three grown children in the family the only place on the hall rack where father can find room for his hat and coat is the nail on the back of the cellar door.

You can make a woman believe that white is black. But you can't make her believe that clothes can be comfortable and stylish at the same time.

Why is it that almost every man believes that almost everybody else is happier than he is?

If the kisses men give women were as passionate as the kisses women give other women there wouldn't be much trouble in the world.

One thing we like about a woman who does her own housework is that she hardly ever has time to lavish affection on a lap dog.

A modern princess does more primping to go to a grocery store for a bar of soap than an old fashioned girl did when she was going to a dance.

There are about 987,000,000 ways to get yourself in bad, but the easiest way is to go to a woman and knock her husband behind his back.

The old fashioned girl who used to make baby clothes now has a daughter who is making a name for herself.

Thinking about selling your house?

To get the greatest cash value for your property you should make sure that it looks in first-class condition. Repainting makes a world of difference in an old house.

A clean, fresh-looking house sells quicker and commands a higher price than the dingy place. The cost of the paint has been known to come back ten to one because of the greater desirability to the purchaser.

If thinking of selling, think also of painting and use "High Standard," the paint made to give best results.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Inflammatory Rheumatism.
 The treatment of inflammatory rheumatism is absolute rest in bed. The bed should be comfortable, and the patient should remain in it for at least two weeks after the fever has become normal and all symptoms of swelling and inflammation have subsided. The rest is essential to prevent complications, the commonest of which is endocarditis (inflammation of the lining membrane of the heart). While in bed the patient should wear a loose flannel nightdress and lie between blankets. The joints must be kept at complete rest. They should be wrapped in cotton wool and kept in padded splints, made secure with a roller bandage. All through the course of the illness the sufferer may drink water and lemonade freely. Milk and cereals are most suitable foods to use. Medical treatment is of the greatest importance. Every direction given by the attending physician should be faithfully carried out to prevent complications. If the heart should become affected, prolonged rest in bed will be the most important part of the treatment.

SUBLIME SIMPLICITY.

The Epitaph Over Sir Henry Lawrence, the Lucknow Hero.

There is a simple tomb in Lucknow, in India, that cost no more than many a plain farmer's gravestone in our rural burying places, but Clarence Poe declares that it impressed him more than anything else he saw in India except the Himalayas, the Taj Mahal and the view of Benares from the river.

It is the tomb of the heroic Sir Henry Lawrence, who died so glorious a death in the great mutiny of 1857. No commander in all India had planned more wisely for the defense of the men and women under his care, but the siege had only begun when he was mortally wounded. He called his successor and his associates to him, and at last, having omitted no detail of counsel or information that might enable them to carry out his farseeing plans, he roused himself to dictate his own immortal epitaph:

Here Lies
 Henry Lawrence,
 Who Tried to Do His Duty,
 May the Lord Have Mercy on His Soul.
 And so today these lines, sublime in their simplicity, mark his last resting place, and you feel that not even the great Akbar in Secundra or Napoleon in Paris has a worthier monument.—Youth's Companion.

HOWARD MURDER TRIAL IS RAPIDLY NEARING THE END

THE FINAL TESTIMONY WAS INTRODUCED THIS EVENING AND CASE IS EXPECTED TO GO TO JURY SOMETIME SATURDAY—DEFENSE CAUSES DEMONSTRATION AT SCENE OF MURDER TO REBUT CLAIM OF TWO WITNESSES THAT THEY SAW ACCUSED MAN WHEN LAST SHOT WAS FIRED.

At 3:40 this afternoon all evidence had been submitted in the Howard murder case, and court adjourned until Saturday morning, when special charge will be submitted and arguments made. Each side is limited to 2½ hours argument.

Interest in the trial of William Howard was increased Friday morning when John Myers, a prisoner of the Ohio Penitentiary, and other witnesses testified.

Myers was escorted to the city by a guard, testified and was returned to prison on the next train. The man was confined in the county jail at the time of the Byrd murder, and later was sentenced to state prison upon charges preferred by his daughter. He testified that Howard, when locked up on the night of the crime, gave indications of being badly intoxicated.

Testimony calculated to rebut that offered by Francis Madden and Della Thompson, who stated that they were in an adjoining flat at the time of the crime and saw a man whom they claim was William Howard, at the back door of the Howard home and saw the last shot fired, was introduced by the defense.

Wednesday night the attorneys for the defense, Gregg, Patton and Gregg, accompanied by Bert Shimp, Tom Lindsay and Tom Hillery, went to the scene of the crime and there made a demonstration to ascertain if one standing where the Madden and Thompson girls were standing at the time they claim to have seen the last shot fired, could really see a gun carried by a person standing at the rear door of the Howard home.

The two colored girls testified that they heard the first shot and in looking out of the back door beheld a man standing back of the Howard door, and that the man, to their best belief, was William Howard, and that while they looked he fired into the Howard doorway, the weapon from which the flash and explosion came, being flung back over the man's shoulder after the shooting.

The two witnesses are the only ones who, so far, have claimed that they saw either shot fired, and who claim to have recognized the accused as he stood on the rear porch immediately after the death of Nannie Byrd is supposed to have occurred.

The men who aided the attorneys in making the demonstration were placed upon the stand Friday morning and their testimony was to the effect that the two girls, standing where they were, could not have seen a gun if the man they saw carried one and stood close up to the entrance to the Howard home.

The evidence carried in the testimony of the two girls remains very impressive.

good roadway leading through the English addition, past the Wonder stove factory, and into the main part of town by that route.

North street is torn up to Gibbs avenue, which is the second street leading east of North street, and the first street in the suburbs, leading east from North street, is Earl avenue, where vehicles turn on the route past the Wonder factory and into the main part of town.

The change of route makes only a few minutes difference in the time required to reach the main part of the city.

At no time during the improvement now under way will traffic be shut off from the north.

ALLEY CATCH-ALLS SADLY NEGLECTED

As a general rule, according to one who has been about the city a great deal during the past few weeks, the alleys are free from odoriferous manure piles and other fly-breeding places.

However there are a few fly-breeding spots left, and entire neighborhoods are alarmed by the odor arising from the accumulated filth. Such collections of refuse are held to be not only a fly breeding place but a menace to public health and a blight to the community in which they are located and neglect of proper attention on the part of the property owner who uses the alley for a dump is violation of a city ordinance.

Mrs. Tom Hillery has returned from a visit with her parents near Greenfield.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS AT COCKERILL STORE

The Cockerill grocery has just completed some radical improvements in keeping with the progressive policy of the store, and as a result more room is afforded and more sanitary methods of handling fruits, vegetables and other articles have been installed.

The old counters have been torn out along the sides of the big store and replaced with handsome new counters and show-cases which have been placed in the center of the store, in a double row. The new counters, cases and bins are of latest design and constructed with the idea of sanitation, yet displaying the goods to best advantage.

The only coffee roaster in the city has been installed by the Cockerill store as part of its modern equipment, and stands near the front entrance where anyone may see it in action. Mr. Ed Fite, manager of the store, will purchase the green coffee berry in large quantities and will offer fresh roasted coffee to Washington citizens at all times. The roaster will also be used for roasting peanuts. It is operated by electricity.

In addition to offering better opportunity for inspection of goods, the new changes at the store add much to the attractiveness of the place of business.

LETS CONTRACTS FOR NEW RESIDENCE

Within a few hours after fire had destroyed the residence occupied by E. C. Kelley, on the George Jackson farm in Paint township, Wednesday, Mr. Jackson had let contracts for the construction of a new and more modern home.

The debris of the former home and contents will be removed at once, and the new residence started next week and completed within the next few weeks.

Mr. Kelley, who lost nearly everything in the house, has received $360 insurance, although his loss far exceeds that amount.

BENEFIT MATINEE IS APPROVED

MEETING OF DUTCH TREAT CLUB OF Y. M. C. A. RESULTS IN ESTABLISHING OF JUNE 17 AS DATE FOR HOLDING MATINEE RACES UNDER AUSPICES OF Y. M. C. A. — CLUB DECIDES TO HOLD FUTURE DINNERS NOON THURSDAYS INSTEAD OF EVENINGS.

June 17 is the date set for a special afternoon matinee racing performance, to be put on by the Matinee Club, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. A favorable report as to holding the event, submitted by a joint committee of Matinee clubmen and Y. M. C. A. men, and the subsequent approval of the Y. M. C. A. directors, marked the regular Thursday evening dinner of the Dutch Treat Club, at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening.

The event will be handled in much the same manner as matinee cards are usually conducted, with perhaps a few extra attractions. Purses will be awarded the winners.

Speeches were made at the meeting by Dr. L. P. Howell, of the Matinee Club, and Mr. Wm. Worthington of the Y. M. C. A. Finance Committee chairman of the joint committee.

It was also decided at this meeting that the weekly dinners of the Dutch Treat aggregation be held at noon on Thursdays in the future, instead of in the evening as has been the custom.

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR MAY DAY FETE

Plans for the second annual May Day fete of Cherry Hill are going merrily on and it is expected that May the seventh will see practically all of Washington's school patrons and many others enroute to this beautifully located school.

The school is putting on a very ambitious play, a dramatization of "Pied Piper, of Hamelin," with a hundred and fifty pupils in the cast. It will be staged in the natural amphitheater and seats built up on the encircling hillside.

Rehearsals are progressing finely, in charge of Miss Pauline Pine and Mrs. Armetha Lieuellen.

Oldest Chess Problem.

The oldest chess problem on record is thought to be that contained in an ancient Persian manuscript attributed to Caliph Kalifen Mutasin Billah, who reigned in Bagdad A. D. 833 to 842. But the reader would have to learn the old rules before it was intelligible. For example, the queen could make a move of only one square at a time and that on a diagonal, but a queen promoted from a pawn was allowed to make a move of two squares diagonally. The bishop had no power over any square except the third from which it stood on its own diagonal line, but it was allowed to vault over any piece that happened to be between. In short, it was a totally different game. Chess in the precise form in which we know it and play it today is a comparatively modern game.—London Strand Magazine.

THE YELLOW FLAG.

A Ruse That Once Saved a British Ship From Capture.

An effective ruse de guerre in the way of flag flying was that practiced in the Mediterranean at the beginning of the last century by Lord Dundonald while cruising in the British ship Speedy. This little brig had captured so many of the enemy's merchantmen that a Spanish frigate was specially fitted out, disguised as a merchantman, to bring her to book.

Dundonald, in order to deceive the merchant craft of the enemy, adopted similar tactics and disguised the Speedy as a Danish merchant brig. The two disguised boats soon sighted each other. Dundonald at once gave chase and discovered his mistake when the Spaniard suddenly revealed her true nature and started lowering a boat to examine the Speedy's papers.

But Dundonald was equal to the occasion. He hoisted the yellow flag—signal of sickness. And when the Spanish boat was within hail an English officer in Danish uniform shouted that they were only two days out of Algiers. As the plague was raging in Algiers, the ruse was completely successful.—London Chronicle.

CO-OPERATIVE "DOLLAR DAY" PLAN IS A DECIDED SUCCESS

LARGE NUMBERS OF SHOPPERS MAKE EXTENSIVE PURCHASES IN THIS CITY YESTERDAY. ATTRACTED BY LIBERAL OFFERS OF NEARLY ALL OF THE LOCAL BUSINESS HOUSES.

Washington C. H. merchants co-operated Thursday to try out in this city "Dollar Day," which has been worked out periodically in practically all the large cities and in many smaller ones, without anything like the wealth of Fayette county, or the splendid mercantile opportunities of her county seat.

Merchants wanted to see how people in this section would respond to their efforts.

The "Dollar Day" project was certainly given the acid test.

At the busiest season of the year, men in the fields, women in the throes of house cleaning, following upon the excitement of the Horse Show, and right after stocksale day, noted as a good day for visitors, there had to be something doing to bring people to town.

But they came. It was only necessary to glance down Court and Main streets and see the autos and vehicles and hurrying people to prove that. It was only necessary to peep in the stores and see aisles crowded and people jostling each other to get to the bargains, to be convinced that the inducements of the day were fully appreciated.

The success of the try out of "Dollar Day" in Washington was unquestioned and indicated that too a periodical "Dollar Day" would prove advantageous to both merchants and shoppers.

The magnets of the generous offers of Washington's merchants drew many customers never seen in their stores before, accomplishing one of the foremost purposes of "Dollar Day," the enlarging of business acquaintances, always a big factor in the promoting of increased business activity.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Squires, of Greenfield, visited their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Leland, Thursday.

Miss Ruth Kelley, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Fayette Hospital two weeks ago, was able to go to the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. L. Logan, on North street, Friday evening. She will make a few days' stay with her aunt before going to her home on Circle avenue.

Mr. Werter Shoop came in from St. Louis, Mo., Thursday night, for a few days visit with his wife before continuing his annual spring trip for the P. Hagerty Shoe Co.

Hon. J. M. Willis made a business trip to Columbus Friday.

In Social Circles

One of the most elaborate and brilliant affairs of many seasons in the Fraternal Order of Eagles, was the ladies' social session and banquet at the club rooms Thursday night.

The banquet was served at ten o'clock in the large lodge hall, which was beautifully decorated in the national colors. Red and white carnations and greenery decked the long tables.

Before and afterwards dancing was enjoyed in the old I. O. O. F. quarters across the hall. Splendid music was furnished by Whelpley, Kneisley and Ramsey and some of the popular minstrel music was repeated to the delight of the guests. Messrs Pearce, Harvey, Wm. Smith, Ed Smith, and Updyke sang solos and there were quartets and double quartets. Everybody had a royal good time.

The committee in charge of the banquet was made up of Mesdames Fred Backenstoe, Perce Pearce, M. B. Shank, Chas. Briggs, Will Smith.

PREPARING NORTH STREET FOR BASE

From East street to the North corporation line, North street is now being placed in condition for the concrete base which is to be laid under the entire improvement.

For several days the steam roller has been busy on the street and men have been filling up all depressions and establishing the proper grade before the last touches are given for the concrete base.

Next Monday is the date set for beginning the concrete work, and it is expected that when the work is once started it will move forward very rapidly. Nearly one-half square of the base will be laid daily until completed.

GREENFIELD WILL PAVE MAIN STREETS

The Greenfield council, at a meeting this week, voted to pave large portions of the two main streets.

Jefferson street from first to sixth is to be paved; Washington street from North to the B. & O. tracks.

Only one member of the Greenfield council voted against the paving resolutions.

BIG HORSE SALE COMES TO CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Late Friday afternoon the spring sales of the Washington Sales Company came to a close, after one of the most successful sales ever held in the city.

Until the last animal was sold the good prices continued and the general average was high. A large number of horses sold for figures well over $200.

The crowd Friday was large and the number of men who came to buy was unusually big. Bidding throughout the sale was lively, and the management is pleased with the results.

Some of the best prices obtained are given below: King B., consigned by Joe Overfield, North Lewisburg, Ohio, purchased by W. E. Stafford, $600. Joe Ashland, consigned by John Creamer, Jeffersonville, brought $445, and was purchased by Robert Minshall. Bond Alert, consigned by W. E. Kreider, West Milton, Ohio, sold for $390. He was purchased by Abe Blessing. Other purchases were No. 94, $325, purchased by Herman Friss; No. 120, $525, Herman Friss; No. 125, $210, Herman Friss; No. 132, Geo. Weaver, $295; No. 139, $225, C. E. Snowdew; No. 142, Cary Short, $235; No. 9, J. R. Hutchings, $310.

TRAIN RIDERS GATHER BOUQUETS

Five young men, picked up by B. & O. detective R. A. Kennedy, faced Judge Rell G. Allen, Friday morning on a charge of train riding, and upon their plea of guilty were given their choice of a workhouse sentence or ridding the court house lawn of the myriad of dandelions which have been increasing rapidly each year.

The five chose the plucking of dandelions and set to work, each with a basket, rooting out the offensive yellow blossoms. At the rate the men are traveling it will require several days to cover the entire lawn.

BRANCH HILL PLAYERS BUCK ATHLETICS SUNDAY

The Branch Hill Exhibition Players, a stiff touring ball team from Hills Center, O., will stack up against the local Athletics at Athletic park Sunday afternoon. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock sharp.

Jack Pfeister, formerly a member of the slab force of the Chicago Cubs, will twirl for the Hillicans. Reno will do the pill shooting for Washington.

The batting order of both teams follows:

Hill Center—Kerr, c; Weyand, cf; Flynn, 2b; Philhauer, rf; Burkhardt, 3b; Ernie, ss; Beck, lf; Myers, 1b; Pfeister, c.

Washington—Reed, 3b; Jones, cf; Corwin, ss; Runnells, 2b; Grandle, 1b; Noon, lf; Mobley, rf; Hagerty, c; Reno, p. Umpire, Merz.

It will be noted that Noon will return to his old position in left field, but it is not certain that he will remain there. The shift places Mobley in the right garden and Grandle on first base.

INTERURBAN CARS WRECKED ON LAKE SHORE

Sandusky, O., April 30. — Between 30 and 40 persons were injured when two limited cars, one eastbound and the other westbound, came together on the southern division of the Lake Shore Electric at Flora siding, two miles west of Clyde.

Mrs. Flora Boner, sixty, of Fremont, will probably die. Her spine was injured and she was cut about the head.

Others of the more seriously injured are: Jesse Vickery, attorney, Clyde, skull fractured; F. J. Baldwin, Toledo, ribs broken and scalp torn; George Moore, Fremont, badly cut about the head; Bert Sandwich, motorman on the eastbound car, cut about the head and arm fractured; Mrs. O. E. Johnson, Fremont, ribs fractured; George Johnson, ten, son of Mrs. O. E. Johnson, head cut, lrv-

COLD ON YOUR LUNGS?

A cold on the lungs is often dangerous. Don't delay! Hoff's German Liniment "hits the spot" and removes the danger in a hurry.

For Rheumatism, Lame Back, Neuralgia, Cold on the Lungs, Cold in the Head, Bruises, Sprains, Aching Joints, Sore Feet, Bunions, etc., you simply rub it on the sore parts and the pain disappears. Can be taken internally for Colds, Coughs, Croup, etc. Thousands of mothers appreciate Hoff's German Liniment for relieving children's ailments. They know that there is nothing like Hoff's German Liniment for stopping pain. Made from white emulsion of camphor cream with other pure, harmless, effective ingredients. Everyone knows that camphorated oil rubbed on the chest is good for cold on the lungs, etc. The only objection to it is that it leaves the pores open, making one a waiting victim for the next attack of cold. Hoff's German Liniment keeps the pores closed—keeps colds out.

All druggists sell Hoff's German Liniment—a quarter pint for a quarter, large family size, 50c. It is pure and white as snow and it won't soil the Finest Clothes. It is stainless and greaseless and has a refreshing odor. We absolutely guarantee results and authorize your druggist to return your money if dissatisfied. There is only one genuine Hoff's German Liniment. Beware of substitutes.

ing Fangbner, Fremont.

Many of the injured persons were rushed from the scene in automobiles. After receiving such treatment as their wounds demanded at Clyde or Fremont, they went their respective ways. Fire broke out in the wreckage and both cars were destroyed.

According to reports received at the general offices of the Lake Shore Electric here, the westbound car, running twenty minutes late, was to have gone into Flora siding, but failed to do so, although the reason has not been ascertained. An investigation is under way.

L. B. Wiles, conductor, and Bert Sandwich, motorman, were in charge of the eastbound car. M. A. Truman, conductor, and Will Kaiser, motorman, were in charge of the westbound car. All live at Fremont. With the exception of Sandwich, all escaped with only slight injuries.

MR. WALSH HITS BACK

Kansas City, Mo., April 30.—"I called Rockefeller a liar," Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the federal industrial relations commission, said, "and," he continued, "in return Mr. Rockefeller calls me a liar."

"But the mass of correspondence proves conclusively John D. Rockefeller, Jr., dodged the issue and showed he testified to untrue facts on the stand at the former hearing."

Mr. Walsh referred to the private telegrams and letters that have come into the hands of the commission showing the close relations between the Rockefellers' offices in New York and the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

"I would hardly call Rockefeller a hypocrite yet," Mr. Walsh said. "You know that is a pretty strong charge to make against any man. But all through the investigation into the strike conditions, that cost the lives of men, women and children, he has covered up. At least he has covered up through the press. He has hired his own publicity agents to handle the situation."

"Rockefeller said I made my statements on deductions and not on facts. I have the facts, and they will be brought out at the hearing in Washington next week."

BRYANT'S POETIC CAREER.

Two Facts About His Greatest Work, "Thanatopsis."

Bryant was nearly twenty-three years old when "Thanatopsis" was first printed in the North American Review. So much has been said about the astounding precocity of this poet and so many errors have accumulated around the publication of his masterpiece that it may be well to state the facts.

We know just two facts about this work. First, it was published when Bryant was almost twenty-three—not young for a poetic genius; second, that in its original published form in the North American Review it is not a remarkable poem.

It was in the 1821 edition of Bryant's poems, when the author was twenty-six or twenty-seven, that the work first appeared in its universally known form. Only a few minor changes were made after that date. This disposes of the generally accepted statement that "Thanatopsis" is a juvenile masterpiece.

Bryant was, however, a precocious poet, although his precocity is not displayed in his greatest work. One of the most extraordinary facts about his poetical career is that he actually published verse during the administration of Thomas Jefferson and during the

ARMS OF ANTWERP.

They Recall the Queer Custom That Gave the City Its Name.

Historians relate that Antwerp takes its name from a castle which in Frankish times marked the site of the city. This castle was built to protect the entrance to the Scheldt and to prevent foreign traders introducing goods into the country without paying toll to the sovereign lord.

The penalty for theft and smuggling was in those days the cutting off of a hand, and, as in this case the severed members were thrown into the Scheldt, the castle came to be known as And-hunberbo—or, in Flemish, Antwerpen—"the place of hand throwing." The castle and two severed hands appear on the city arms to this day.

Antwerp cathedral's tapering spire was once compared by Charles V. to mechin lace. The towers of the old Steen castle, the fortress palace of the former counts of Antwerp, break the center of the line of docks and look as stolid and formidable as in the days when the castle was necessary to guard the shipping. Here were held those great fairs which during the middle ages served to attract merchants from all parts of the civilized world.—London Standard.

Trial by Jury.

The New York Law Journal says on the subject of trial by jury:

"While we do not think that trial by jury ought to be abolished or that there is any increasing sentiment in that direction, we do believe that the system should be modified by dispensing with the requirement for unanimous verdicts. This would obviate the element of individual eccentricity as an impediment to the administration of justice. Mental idiosyncrasy on the part of judges is constantly exhibited and scarcely excites comment. An eminent and very able judge will dissent from the ruling of his associates when it is extremely difficult to understand how so gifted a mind could have gone off on that particular tangent. By permitting affirmances or reversals, notwithstanding dissent, the personal equation is eliminated."

Modeled After an Ancient Tomb.

The temple of the Scottish rite in Washington is a handsome white marble structure about 150 feet square and rises to a height of 150 feet above the street level. At either side of the main entrance is an immense marble sphinx. A row of tall Ionic columns surrounds the second story. The architects followed closely the design of the ancient tomb of King Mausolus, which stood in Halicarnassus and was one of the seven wonders of the world. It was built by the wife of the king and was decorated with hundreds of wonderful statues. This old tomb became so famous that many buildings were modeled after it, but this is the only structure in America in which the design has been used.

SCENE AT THE POLO GROUNDS

New York, April 30.—Benny Kauff, the Ty Cobb of the Federal league, deserted the Brooklyn Federal league club and signed a three years' iron-clad contract with the New York Nationals. When he attempted to play center field for the Giants, President James E. Gaffney of the world's champion Braves, with the backing of the league president, John K. Tener, refused to allow his club to take the field against the outlaw deserter. After a long wrangle McGraw benched Kauff and the game proceeded. Kauff is ineligible, according to the laws of organized baseball. He will never be permitted to play in the National league unless he is reinstated by the national commission.

MAKE GOOD WORK POSSIBLE.

You cannot do good work while your bowels are sluggish or your liver torpid. Wm. O. E. Bielke, Mgr. ## HOME TEACHERS FOR BLIND ARE PROVIDED

Ohio Commission Brings Sunshine Into Lives of Sightless.

To be blind is a tragedy which not one of us would wish to face. To be blind and idle is an even greater tragedy.

The Ohio Commission For the Blind is endeavoring to lessen the burden of a life in darkness by sending home teachers to visit the blind in their homes. Sometimes little can be done to improve the situation; usually, however, the home teacher is able to bring at least encouragement by showing that in spite of her blindness she is still able to be of service in the world. These state home teachers give instruction wherever desired in reading, in sewing, knitting and other forms of handicraft.

Many a shut-in blind person has not only been greatly cheered by the visits of the commission's home teachers, but also enabled to earn something towards their support.

ROLLER TOWEL IS CARRIER OF GERMS

Many Eyes Destroyed by Its Promiscuous Use.

Never wipe your face on a towel that someone else has used. The Ohio Commission for the Blind has unquestionable evidence that eyes have been damaged by persons wiping their eyes upon a towel that has been used by others.

Because you may live in a home in which everything is cleanly does not relieve you from the risk you run, for the infection which may be dangerous.

ROLLER TOWEL IN USE.

ing your eyes may be transferred to the towel from your hands and those of others.

Every family should make an effort to provide an individual cloth or towel for the use of the face. So long as some eye difficulties have arisen from several people using the same towel, it is certainly up to all of us to insist upon having an individual towel, not only in a public place, but also in the home.

"THERE is no law on the statute books compelling people to move up closer on the bench of life to make room for a blind brother; but there is a divine law written on the hearts of men constraining them to make a place for him, not only because he is unfortunate, but also because it is his right as a human being to share God's greatest gift, the privilege of man to go forth unto his work."—Helen Keller.

AVOID CONTAGION.

Get the Health History of a House Before You Move Into It.

To those intending to buy or move into a house that has been occupied the following advice is offered by the Woman's Home Companion:

"Guard your family from contagious disease germs in the new house. It has been proved that thousands of tuberculosis and scarlet fever cases annually are the result of moving into houses which have not been disinfected.

"Secure the 'health history' of the house you expect to buy or rent. It will be supplied by your board of health, your health officer or any physician who practices in your town. If it has housed a tuberculosis patient don't take that house; find another.

"No matter what the 'health history' of the house, have the plumbing examined, the drains flushed and the entire house disinfected.

"If the walls are to be repapered have the old paper removed.

"Do not move into any house where the cellar has been flooded and is moldy.

"In towns where there is neither city water nor sewerage system make sure that the well and the cesspool are widely separated."

A man must be excessively stupid as well as uncharitable who believes there is no virtue but on his own side.—Addison.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

THINGS DOING AT THE MOVIES

With each succeeding week attractions increase at the moving picture houses. Features that have been "treats" in the past are becoming almost everyday pleasures to Washington patrons, as a result of the special efforts of local theater men to procure the very best obtainable.

COLONIAL.

"The Riddle of the Green Umbrella," written by a local man, Hugh C. Weir, for the famous Kalem star, Alice Joyce, is a tense and stirring detective play which has been booked by the Colonial for next Wednesday. The play is one of a series written by Mr. Weir for the popular actress, and this series was largely responsible for his present enviable position on the scenario staff of the great Universal film producers at Universal City, California.

Tonight the Colonial has a bang up bill of one reelers, a Selig, an Edison and an Essanay, all snappy and full of action. The regular vaudeville performance will accompany the performances of tonight and tomorrow.

The last installment of Runaway June will be shown the same night as the Weir play, Wednesday, "Kit, The Arkansas Traveler," another good story from the pen of Chantreau, will be shown Thursday.

PALACE.

The Palace has been especially fortunate in securing for its audiences of Wednesday next, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," the homely little story by Alice Hegan Rice which became one of the best sellers of several generations. This is its first debut in motion pictures and the startling Lovey Mary is incarnated as only a Beatriz Michelena can accomplish such a feat, and with Blanche Chapman in the role of Mrs. Wiggs and House Peters as Bob Stuart, movie patrons see the play just as it appeared in its big success of a few seasons ago. Miss Michelena will also be remembered as the inimitable Salomy Jane.

"Cards Never Lie," an intensely gripping story of gypsy life, is presented by the Palace tonight, with Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby in the leads. The picture is produced by the Universal people. Myers will be remembered as a Lubin star of many successful seasons, while Miss Theby has millions of admirers, gained through her association with the Vitaphone players.

Tomorrow the Palace will present Grace Cunard, in one of her best plays, "The Girl of the Secret Service," a woman detective story brimful of strange and thrilling situations.

WONDERLAND.

The Wonderland is now showing a series of Paramount releases such as are seldom seen outside the larger cities, and are easily among the best ever shown in Washington.

Tonight the Wonderland is presented the ever popular Mary Pickford in one of her very best plays, "Such a Little Queen." This play was produced at enormous expense and is of elaborate setting. As the name indicates, the story is of royalty and the big little actress is seen at her best.

Macklyn Arbuckle, for many years recognized as one of the greatest of American actors, will be seen at the Wonderland next Wednesday in "The County Chairman."

Tuesday will appear the ninth of the Exploits of Elaine series. Friday the Wonderland offers another good Paramount picture, "What's His Name."

CIRCLE AVENUE JOB IS COMPLETED

Contractor O. M. Junk has completed the two squares of concrete paving on Circle avenue, between Main and North streets.

Within a few days the new improvement will be thrown open to traffic.

The improvement covers a portion of the street which long has been noted for its deplorable condition, and the two squares suddenly loom up in importance as most desirable residence portions of the city.

MOTOR HEARSE IN BIG DEMAND

Undertaker A. R. McCoy today sent his new motor hearse to Hillsboro for the use of Undertaker David Evans, of that place, in conveying a body to Sabina for burial.

The hearse was also used at another funeral this afternoon, by undertaker Littleton, of Sabina, conveying a body from Sabina to Wilmington.

CLEAN-UP DAY AT Y. M. C. A. TOMORROW

Secretary Patton and his corps of assistants from the Boys' Department will observe a special clean-up day Saturday, by effecting a general cleaning and brightening of the building and premises.

Misnomers of Chemistry.

One of the strangest features of chemistry is the fact that many of the chemical names are misleading and do not describe the articles. Here are a few examples: Oil of vitriol is no oil, neither are oils of turpentine and kerosene. Copperas is an iron compound and contains no copper.

Salts of lemon is the exceedingly poisonous oxalic acid. Carbolic acid is not an acid, but an alcohol. Cobalt contains none of that metal, but arsenic. Soda water has no trace of soda, nor has sulphuric acid of sulphur. Sugar of lead has no sugar, cream of tartar has nothing of cream, nor milk of lime any milk. German silver has no silver and black lead no lead. Mosaic gold is only a sulphide of tin.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Going Down.

Redd—He started out with a $6,000 automobile.
Greene—And what car is he using now?

"A street car."—Yonkers Statesman.

Bowser, He Putters

Of Course He Is a Failure.

By M. QUAD.

Copyright 1935, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Do you pass a carpenter shop on your way downtown?" asked Mrs. Bowser the other morning as Mr. Bowser was ready to leave the house.

"Why?" he cautiously asked in reply.

"We ought to have a screen door to the kitchen. There's where all the flies will come in. We can use the same old door we had last year, but we'll have to have a carpenter to hang it."

"We will, eh? I beg to differ. I don't propose to pay no carpenter $3 or $4 for doing what I can do in half an hour. I'll fit it myself."

"But don't you remember, Mr. Bowser—don't you remember that you—"

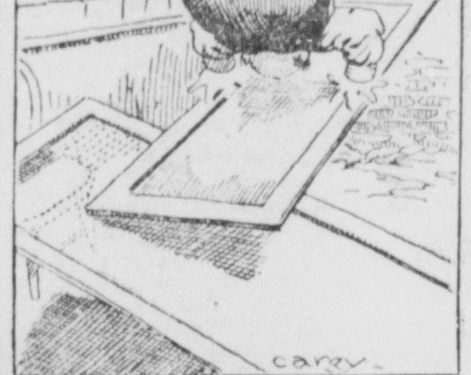

"That I what?"

"You tried to hang a screen door last summer and you got so mad you nearly tore the house down!"

"I did, eh? That's a pretty yarn for you to stand up there and spin! In the first place I never tried to hang a screen door, and in the second I never got mad."

"But you—"

"Nothing of the sort. I don't even remember that we had a screen door. I never tried to hang one. I never got mad. I never even saw a fly around our house in summer. Change of climate seems to have had a very queer effect on you."

"But won't you send a carpenter?"

"Not by a jugful! I shan't have anything to do at the office this afternoon, and if there's a bit of tinkering around the house it will be fun for me."

He returned at noon, having a heavy parcel with him, and when Mrs. Bowser asked about the contents he cut the string and replied:

"Just a few tools; come handy to tinker with. Every man ought to keep a few tools and do his own repairing. I think I saved us at least $200 last year."

"Well, I hope you won't fly mad over your work. A screen door is a very particular thing to hang."

"Oh, it is! You've hung lots of 'em, I presume."

"You'd better write a book and call it 'What I Know About Screen Doors.' I ought to feel awful proud to think I've got such a smart wife. Run right in now and begin the first chapter."

Mr. Bowser descended to the cellar, where he found four screen doors of different sizes. He selected one he thought would fit and carried it up. It was six inches too high. The next was four inches too short. The third was almost long enough to make two such doors as he wanted. He had the fourth one, which was almost a fit, in the back yard when Mrs. Bowser came out to say:

"If you had first measured the opening and then measured your doors you wouldn't have had to lug up but this one."

"Wouldn't I? Perhaps you understand my object in bringing up the extra ones? Perhaps it is the duty of a husband to explain every little move he makes?"

The door had to be sawed off about an inch at the top. Mr. Bowser brought out a couple of kitchen chairs, made a scratch on the door with a nail and was about to use the saw when she asked:

"Aren't you going to strike a line across there?"

"For what reason?"

"If you don't you can't saw straight."

"Can't I? Perhaps I am blind?"

When he finished sawing off the strip and held the frame up to the opening it was plain that he had run his saw at an angle.

"I told you so!" she quietly observed.

"Told me what?" he replied as he turned on her. "Do you suppose I don't know what I'm about? Do you imagine I wanted a straight top on that door? If you know so much go ahead and finish the job!"

Mrs. Bowser went into the house, and Mr. Bowser held up the frame again to see that he would be obliged to tack on a strip or leave an opening for nearly all the flies in the state. He was sawing a piece off one of the other doors to make the strip when Mrs. Bowser appeared and said:

"You'll spoil that door, too, Mr. Bowser. Why don't you take a piece from this box? If you had put a straight edge on the other and marked it you would have been all right."

"Mrs. Bowser," he began as he laid down his saw, "am I a purblind child five or six years old who must be brought in when it rains, or am I the man of the house, forty years old and generally supposed to have sense enough not to sit down under a pile-driver to eat my lunch?"

"But you'll never make that door fit," she protested.

"If I don't no other man on earth need try!"

She went in again, and he sawed off a strip and nailed it on the other door. Then he held it up to find the frame half an inch too long. Mrs. Bowser reappeared and was about to say something, but he glared at her so savagely that she went back without a word.

"Those infernal old kitchen chairs are either lifting up or sitting down!" he growled as he held the door up.

"I've got to saw a piece off the bottom to make it fit, and she'll either fit or down come the whole shanty!"

He sawed off a piece and got what he called a fit. He smiled and chuckled over his success and had the hinges on when Mrs. Bowser came out to ask:

"What good is a door there if you leave all those cracks?"

"Cracks? Cracks? You can't find one!"

"Look here—and here—and here. Mr. Bowser. Even the bumblebees would have no trouble in flying in there. And how are you putting that spring on?"

Mr. Bowser laid down the hammer, the gimlet and the screwdriver, and, after wiping off his flushed face, he stood erect and pointed into the kitchen. Mrs. Bowser disappeared without a word. Then he inspected and found cracks.

"Confounded old doorway is out of plumb, and that's the matter!" he growled as he set to work to unbinge it. When he got the door off he ricked it this way and that and tried it again. More cracks than before! He took off and sprang on the top with all might, and this time as he held it there was a crevice through which sparrow could have flown. He started to lay it flat on the ground, but forward, tumbling over himself, a sprawled on his back.

"What's the matter?" asked Mrs. Bowser from the back door.

Mr. Bowser slowly arose, looked around for the ax, and, not seeing he jumped with both feet on the screen doors and kicked until they were reduced to strings and strips. Then went up to Mrs. Bowser, panting and perspiring and pale faced, and hoarsely whispered:

"This is the last time—the very last. Next time you coax me into doing such infernal puttering work around the house I'll go—go, never to return."

"When did I coax you?"

"Never you mind! It's all right!"

"But I say—"

"Just keep quiet! I am neither blind nor deaf! If we live together ten billion years longer don't you ask me to even bore a hole in a table leg for a caster! This is the limit! I'm done with this!"
